

ALNWICK STORY FEST FREE FRINGE

SATURDAY 07 MARCH 2026

10:00am – 11:30am	Explore Alnwick's Heritage: Alnwick Civic Society return with the popular guided walk exploring Alnwick's historical development and built heritage. (NB: This event is free but must be booked via Eventbrite, Search Eventbrite Alnwick Heritage)	Alnwick Marketplace Alnwick NE66 1HS
----------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------

SPOKEN WORD AT THE SATURDAY FRINGE

2:00pm – 4:00pm	Alnwick Playhouse Writers - Alnwick Playhouse Writers: 100 Years, 100 Words (and Then Some!) Ready for a whirlwind of words? The Alnwick Playhouse Writers are throwing a lively literary love-in to celebrate 100 fabulous years of the Playhouse. Expect punchy 100-word anniversary gems, bite-sized flash fiction, bold short stories and poetry that might make you laugh, sigh or sit up straighter. Local writers will share snippets of their creative journeys before diving in, swapping places in a lively, fast-moving rotation. It's part celebration, part storytelling feast and proof that after a century, this stage still crackles with imagination. Come for the words. Stay for the magic.	Northern Angels 7-9 Market Place NE66 1HS
--------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------

MUSIC AND SPOKEN WORD AT THE SATURDAY FRINGE

2:00pm – 9:00pm	2.00 - Kate Battrick Fashion editor on her new book "Fragmented" 2.25 - Andy Hall & Friends with popular covers 2.40 - Tillering Trio Songs and tunes from Northumberland and The Netherlands 3.00 - Marisse Whittaker Popular local crime writer talking about her new book "Body of Lies" 3.20 - John Homer Songwriter inspired by his native Northumberland 3.35 - Sonia Ritter Dramatist reading from "The Chronicles of Mrs. Lush by William Fagus" 3.50 - Andrew Duff Our most local singer. He lives next door! 4.05 - Lapwing Jazz Trio Led by talented vocalist Paula, with originals and jazz standards 4.50 - Ukeologie Alnwick's own ukelele band 5.20 - Noel Hodgson Well known Northumbrian poet 5.35 - Carole Robb & Jamie Robb – Mother and son duo creating folk music magic - 6.05 - Branwickham New band with pop and folk classics 6.35 - The Gadgie Collective –Jigs, reels, rants and hornpipes 7.05 - 2 Bar Gate–Ron and Clive performing a mixture of acoustic, rock, pop and more 7.35 - Dave Wearn – Songwriter known for his powerful lyrics 7.50 - String Theory Cliff & Paul, well known locally for their excellent guitar playing 8.10 - The Shiremen Gary & Dave, popular duo playing original songs and covers 8.40 - Finish Venue closes at 9.	Upstairs at Alno Lounge 20 Bondgate Within, Alnwick NE66 1TF
--------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------

SUNDAY 08 MARCH 2026

10:00am – 11:30am	Explore Alnwick's Heritage: Alnwick Civic Society return with the popular guided walk exploring Alnwick's historical development and built heritage. (NB: This event is free but must be booked via Eventbrite, Search Eventbrite Alnwick Heritage)	Alnwick Marketplace Alnwick NE66 1HS
----------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------

Please note: Fringe events may be subject to change and may not run exactly to time