Commercial Seaweed by Ventana Plant Science

Ventana Plant Science Commercial Seaweed is a specialized plant nutrient derived from seaweed extract and potassium hydroxide.

It is a highly effective source of potassium, with an NPK ratio of 0-0-14, meaning it contains no nitrogen or phosphorus but is high in potassium.

Our seaweed extract used in this product is Ascophyllum nodosum, a type of brown seaweed known for its high nutrient content and ability to promote plant growth and health
