Decide to leave volatile relationship, she uses razor to produce superficial lacerations to right wrist. Stayed to 'work things out'

I instructed my solicitors to issue a subpoena to Saint Kilda Clinic, where the Mother attended in 2012 after self-harming) and which the Mother denies.

[Affidavit Sworn Reece Storme 2018 Feb 08] Attend Clinic in St Kilda where she is prescribed "cymbalta" later denying it, additionally telling her friends that I told the Doctor to prescribe it to her and was making her take it.

One of the most important and dangerous elements of coercive control is not abusive at all. This is what Biderman called 'ALTERNATING PUNISHMENTS WITH REWARDS'. Aside from extreme situations, in which the abuse is unrelenting, the perpetrator will at times profess their love, offer gifts, show kindness and express remorse.

2012 Dec

[REDACTED] becomes pregnant [REDACTED] She experiences moderate to severe morning sickness and difficulties with mental health. She misses her family and friends. I suggest she go home because her health is important for the baby. I will stay in [REDACTED] provide financial support then move when possible and be a stay-at-home dad.

In domestic abuse, this is often referred to as 'love-bombing' – a whirlwind romance that gets serious very quickly, and may start out like a fairytale. Even in the absence of this, there is generally a period in the relationships where intimacy and trust is established.

IUS COGENS VICTORIA POLICE: CORRUPTION AND TORTURE

2013 Feb 12      GP Dr Moritz: I consulted Jacob Ferrara on 12/02/2013 as a result of an acute stress disorder. He attended a motor car accident two days earlier on his way to work and found a dead driver. The driver had apparently smashed into a tree, and there is good circumstantial evidence that it was due to suicide. K10 Depression moderate to severe

2013 Mar 13      To Parents 'Up and down fight and not, but 100% she is going back to [REDACTED] abd not coming back I don't want her here. She can get free psych treatment in [REDACTED] so she has to stay there maybe in a few years something may happen but not for at least a year she has drained me dry like all the rest.'

---

2013 Mar 14      To Parents 'Do u think this is my fault? or that I am the one that is sending her away? This is all her decision and due to the fact she drains my soul I am, ok to let her go. She doesn't want to stay in [REDACTED] she doesn't like it I annoy her. She hates the health system here. She has psych problems. She keeps saying that she is the one who has to give up everything to be with me.

Basically I said this:

You're happiness is the most important thing because that will create a home f love and support and happiness where Jamie (Baby ? Girl) can come home to and know that there will be no constant fighting little stress and [REDACTED] doesn't have to work and can take Jamie places and show her things and make her smile.

It is her decision and I have nothing to do with it because if she is not happy then the child will suffer. She is confused about what to do ... maybe she comes back maybe she doesn't but if she does she has to treat me in a way that does not make me feel like I am a failure and be so negative. Germans are a bunch of BLACK. AND WHITE whinging proper stress heads. I dont really like them and for sure Hate her mum and will have nothing to do with her.'

2013 Mar 15      To Parents: 'Yes I'm sorry... It is probably a boy. Ultrasound confirms. I will do what is best for the noy and her'

2013 Dec      Assault: she was anxious that I wanted to stay inside and play with [REDACTED] instead of going to the park like she kept asking became enraged and squeezed left arm as hard as she could digging her nails into my skin. When confronted about it later she said, "You deserved it... I scratched you stop trying to make it worse than what it is"

Then he MONOPOLISES HER PERCEPTION. He redirects her attention away from his abuse to her faults: if she wasn't so this, he wouldn't be so that... Then, in order to train their partner to be compliant, the abuser starts to ENFORCE TRIVIAL DEMANDS. He might forbid her from wearing skirts

When in [REDACTED] [REDACTED] would excessively control the clothes I wore. This would usually be 'nice' Jeans, t-shirt and shoes as if she was dressing up a doll for a show she was putting on. This was really de-masculinating. I would push back and wear what I want, however and like always, she would escalate to places where I refuse to go (escalate into violence) so not only did I have to submit to keep the peace for [REDACTED] but I had to submit because the fight was so draining.

IUS COGENS VICTORIA POLICE: CORRUPTION AND TORTURE

The victim starts to live in a kind of altered reality – one that is constructed and continually reinforced by the perpetrator. That's why isolation is so essential – supportive connections may challenge this phony logic. They must be removed or degraded to the point where the victim no longer trusts their observations.

Then, in order to train their partner to be compliant, the abuser starts to ENFORCE TRIVIAL DEMANDS. He might forbid her from wearing skirts...

Lastly, the victim is DEGRADED. Sometimes degradation goes so far, it reaches a level of dehumanisation.

2014 Sep 12      email to AV - Leaving my family has caused unexpected issues and requires me to abandon my original plans to leave on the 27th October to ASAP. She was crying on a phone call recently sounding overwhelmed with the demands of an infant and perhaps was experiencing post-natal depression.

2014 Oct 4      Assault: [REDACTED] was feed [REDACTED] and we are teaching him to eat on his own. He made a mess that made her start yelling at him and me and I told her to leave the room because she cant handle mess. I continued to feed him and there was mess in the kitchen she came back in and tried to remain calm but her body language was very tense. She proceeded to bath him in the sink in the kitchen and began yelling. [REDACTED] began to cry and she continued to bath him trying to keep calm. He looked up and put his arms out to me and [REDACTED] hadn't tried to console him yet (maybe 30 secs felt like more) I took him and hugged him. She then screamed "why don't you let me do my job!!" She then punched me repeatedly on my left arm while I was holding [REDACTED] in my right. Followed by an elbow and then kneed me in the thigh. She left the room.

2014 Oct 6      Assault: Approx 2250 [REDACTED] asked me to get her a drink of water. I told her I cant help but get annoyed... Went and got her a drink... She said "Think about all I have done for this family and getting a drink for me should be a little thing to do" or similar. She splashed to full glass of water on me then threw the glass cup at me, striking me on the left wrist breaking on the wall behind me. She then said "don't think that I will marry you and you sleep on the floor in [REDACTED] room" or similar and threw the ring at me.

Then, in order to train their partner to be compliant, the abuser starts to ENFORCE TRIVIAL DEMANDS. He might forbid her from wearing skirts or speaking to other men...

Lastly, the victim is DEGRADED. Sometimes degradation goes so far, it reaches a level of dehumanisation. Evan Stark explains that women in his practice 'have been forced to eat off the floor, wear a leash, bark when they wanted supper, or beg for favours on their knees'. In many of these sickening scenarios, both the perpetrator and their victim were known to friends and families as friendly, regular people.

just yesterday you called me an idiot.

Jake: Hardly on the same level as you should kill yourself.

You should. [Laugh face]

Then he MONOPOLISES HER PERCEPTION Lastly, the victim is DEGRADED. Sometimes degradation goes so far, it reaches a level of dehumanisation me in the Face.

2015 Sep 20      at 09:23 am Good morning Jacob ... I really hope that you understand about what our fight is if not I probably have to show you more consequences! If I'm looking around; there is next to me a baby camera 150$, humidity thing 150$ plus another one for 100$ ... Your laptop 2000$, your phone (you got your moms credit card few month ago) you sad you would just spend 170$ changing my phone back instead you came with a new one ... And and and there is nothing who can stop you Jacob .. I'm getting anxious ... [REDACTED] and my life is in your hands!!!! You can't spend that much money if you don't own it Jacob ! Now ... I hope you do the right thing about the mattress ...

*Then he MONOPOLISES HER PERCEPTION. He redirects her attention away from his abuse to her faults:
if she wasn't so this, he wouldn't be so that. This can make a lot of sense to her, especially if, like many perpetrators, he seems to love and care for friends and family. If she's the only one he's attacking, it must be she who is provoking him. [Coercive control in domestic relationships]*

This was when I was welcomed with the following message

I'm the best Poser

To my surprise this created instant sadness and anxiety about working at Traralgon. I thought I would be stronger than that but it just goes to show how broken I am becoming at this point....

I had began a shower approx. 1650 and just before I finished at 1655 ...this comment by [REDACTED]

"Are you gonna come and sign the drugs out?! I don't know how you do things elsewhere but here It's not ok to have a shower 5 mins before the start of the shift!" "Alright if that's what you wanna do but just remember What goes around comes around!" Despite hands shaking from [REDACTED] I wrote an email about the incident to Mark and Stacy Holland and then phoned the DM.

[ AV Outcome ] = Workcover Accepted the claim [REDACTED] 37], although AV did not conclude any bullying behaviour occurred.

"Around late September early October, Jake experienced some unsubstantiated issues at Traralgon with bullying & harassment. I stood him down from work due to my concerns for his wellbeing & sent him for a psychiatric assessment & a medical fitness for duty assessment."

disruption including moving with his wife and infant son to [REDACTED] and then returning to [REDACTED] I am relying on his account in this regard and to a degree that of his psychologist.

In the context of these stressors, he has developed a psychiatric condition as per a recognized classification system, namely an adjustment disorder. it hurt her throat. Again annoyed I told her "You're not going to hospital, you are not taking the medication you can take at home so you're not going to hospital. There is nothing they can do they will send you back home. [REDACTED] then became irate and beginning to yell that he had made a mess on the floor and asked how I could let him have yoghurt on his own.

[7] I asked her to try and calm down as [REDACTED] was right there. She said to my son as I left the room exactly "Don't worry bubby mummy is not angry at you, your father is just a dickhead!"

[9] I then let [REDACTED] take him from my arms and she walked away back into the bedroom all the while my son looked at me with fear on his face yelling out "papa! Papa!" with arms outstretched. It was impossible to resist and I followed them into the bedroom where [REDACTED] placed him on the bed and stood in front of me blocking me from getting to my son. She said "You can leave now" and I stated "I'm not leaving! I then took [REDACTED] as I didn't want to leave him with her in such an agitated state. Then upon leaving I said "You will never see him again."

[11] When I was putting [REDACTED] in the car she yelled from the front door something to the effect of "It is your word against mine" "you can't prove anything" Upon dropping my son off at my parents place I immediately rang 000 approx 1545 to request a welfare check on [REDACTED] as I felt bad about saying that she would never see him again as this was never what I wanted to do. The matter was referred to DHS who had "FAMILY FIRST" see ■ coercing her to get an IVO against me and to not allow me to see ■ unsupervised based on my PTSD and subsequent drug theft and abuse at Ambulance Victoria. I have not touched any drugs other than what was prescribed since being stood down in Dec 2015 and still awaiting an outcome. I have been recommended for a diversion program in relation to that matter by VICPOL. I feel that I am being discriminated against and my actions in regard to protecting myself from domestic violence is being ■ and that ■ is being pushed into taking action against me for which there has been no incident instigated by me since Oct or Nov 2015. What are my rights if any? What process occurs of they are going to bar me from seeing him alone? I am severely distressed.

After that, the first step is ISOLATION. There are obvious elements to this – cutting the victim off from supportive family and friends,

It made me angry that she threatens to take him away Me again, like I am neglecting him or hurting him.

14:09 I wrote "All I can say is you just try it"

She then went on to threaten me by saying

"So you better start to be careful now and watch your back especially at night.

People may be trying to hurt you."

I said "I am [REDACTED] father and you are talking about getting people to bash me?"

She said "Oh no. not bash you. I am talking about killing you."

IUS COGENS VICTORIA POLICE: CORRUPTION AND TORTURE

Coercive controllers INDUCE DEBILITY AND EXHAUSTION. Most insidiously, this is done through gaslighting. For the uninitiated, gaslighting a term for when an abuser denies, fabricates and manipulates situations to make his partner doubt her own memory and perception.

I said "what kind of a horrible mother would have their sons Father killed?"
My anxiety started in my chest and all this was in front of [REDACTED]
I continued to keep my distance go about kick starting the car.
She said "This better not happen again because I cant keep fixing your problems, It your fault you left the lights on, You do it [REDACTED] doesn't do it."
She then went on to say that I shouldn't jump the cars with the car running to hook them up. I said "If you don't own the cars then you dont have a say"
She asked me a question about him sleeping and I ignored her and said "I don't talk to someone who threatens to kill me"
She then said "I never said that, I don't know what you are talking about?"

Then he MONOPOLISES HER PERCEPTION. He redirects her attention away from his abuse to her faults: if she wasn't so this, he wouldn't be so that.

I sighed and said nothing.
She said, "I was joking, you should know that."
I said "Why would you do that, you know I am not well"
She said "You have to be nice to me and it won't happen"

Coercive control establishes this same kind of logic, only it operates like a bubble inside the relationship, contrary to the social norms outside it. The victim starts to live in a kind of altered reality – one that is constructed and continually reinforced by the perpetrator. That's why isolation is so essential – supportive connections may challenge this phony logic. They must be removed or degraded to the point where the victim no longer trusts their observations.

Victims of domestic abuse often need multiple kinds of legal and non-legal support, and do not know where to go to get help. This could be addressed by co-locating core services in a triage and referral centre, where the process of seeking support can safely and reliably be streamlined. Examples in Victoria and Western [REDACTED] provide a useful model for how this could be trialled.

2. In light of ongoing conflict at the parent level, Llo should ALWAYS have a toy of his choice (used to be bear or steg but now may be Buzz) with him through all changes of situation ie. Parental change overs and visits to anywhere else as this will provide comfort and stability in an otherwise potentially unstable external environments and conflict.

I wanted to contest [REDACTED] application however I received advice from legal aid that appeared to divert me from doing so stating my psychologist would have to give evidence in person and a stern warning 99% unsuccessful and would mean a finding of fact.

2016 Jul 14                      Email to [REDACTED] Psychologist:
Legal Aid duty lawyer didn't believe me that I could produce evidence to contest it. Stated "a finding of fact would be detrimental to your family law case."
"The lawyer has stated that you would need to give evidence in person for me to contest her application. The magnitude of this requirement I fully understand, and as such will completely and totally agree with your desire not to present in person, also my means to pay you to do so is extremely limited. I am unsure if Legal Aid would fund such a request." I consented without admissions of guilt. So no need, although the police now refuse to accept any more my claims of victimisation and she has successfully convinced others around her that I am a monster the way these people look at me make me feel ill she made the IVO 2 days ago, coincidence I told her no matter how nice she is I will get divorce on Sunday. I am very demoralised and feel that I am innocent where everyone believes I am guilty without any interest in the evidence.

IUS COGENS VICTORIA POLICE: CORRUPTION AND TORTURE

The actual incident occurred on the 21st of October 2016 at approx. 11:30 am. Our son had stayed the night with me and it was regular routine for me to drop him off at her residence Friday mornings.

To make resistance seem futile, the coercive controller must prove that no matter what the victim does, escape is impossible. To do this, he must demonstrate his OMNIPOTENCE.

I had recently been an inpatient for a diagnosis of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and due to my vulnerable state with symptoms of anxiety, hypervigilance and fear (see Ms [REDACTED] report) I had asked her to never let me come into contact with her boyfriend.

Coercive controllers INDUCE DEBILITY AND EXHAUSTION. Most insidiously, this is done through gaslighting. For the uninitiated, gaslighting a term for when an abuser denies, fabricates and manipulates situations to make his partner doubt her own memory and perception. As she becomes more confused and anxious, she starts to believe his interpretations of events are more reliable than her own. Some perpetrators will go to extreme measures – moving keys and money, so the victim feels she is going insane. Another common way of inducing debility by coercing or even forcing the victim to take pain medication or illegal drugs. What better way to reduce a person to compliance, make it harder for them to leave and render her testimony utterly unbelievable?

As normal I dropped him off at the house and found her to be behaving strange, our son walked to her bedroom door and pushed it aside to go in and she quickly grabbed him and stopped him from going inside. I felt intense fear and anxiety and went to investigate. When I entered the room, I turned on the light to find her boyfriend lying on the bed. I walked over to where he was, grabbed his arm firmly and said "You stay away from my son." In fair reaction he managed to spring up, I moved back and he started kicking the air wildly to protect himself. He demanded I get away.

I said again "You stay away from my son ... I don't care about [REDACTED] just stay away from my son ." After [REDACTED] a little more I advanced on him all the while [REDACTED] was trying to pull me away, despite being so close I couldn't really hear what she was saying.

By coincidence the boyfriend started falling to the bed from standing the same time I threw the only punch which lightly connected with some part of the side of the face which didn't cause any injury. We both fell to the bed where it could only be described as a scuffle of little kicks at each other. I got up and [REDACTED] got in my face and I pushed her aside then shortly after heard my son crying which cut through the [REDACTED] and everything calmed down. I thought to myself "Oh no what have I Done."

I immediately went to him who was being held by [REDACTED] and said sorry. I told him it was my fault, I got angry and Im so sorry I scared you. He asked for "Bear" which I went and got from the car.

On my return to the house the boyfriend was still enraged at what I had done and had grabbed a knife from the kitchen and stood in the front yard demanding I go away. As I had regained my composure I said "Please not in front of my son. If you want to come get me ill meet you anywhere you want." He didn't let me pass and hit the knife on the bricks next to me. I put my hands up in front of me palms forward and slowly walked towards my son in the back room saying "Im going to my son". He let me pass without incident.

Her boyfriend continued to yell and I asked [REDACTED] if I could get him out of here. She asked our son if he wanted to go with me or stay with her. He asked to go with me. I picked him up and carried him out to my car out the front and the boyfriend continued to rage and follow me. I put my son in the car and left the house. On the way I further explained to him that I was sorry, that it was my fault and that everyone was safe now and ok.

Coercive controllers INDUCE DEBILITY AND EXHAUSTION. Most insidiously, this is done through gaslighting. For the uninitiated, gaslighting a term for when an abuser denies, fabricates and manipulates situations to make his partner doubt her own memory and perception

After some time, I left my son with my parents.

After the event I sent these messages via text:

21/10/2016, 16:59 - Reece Storme (Jake): Tell Ali sorry he did nothing to deserve being hit

21/10/2016, 17:26 - Reece Storme (Jake): Really he did nothing wrong at all and it would have been horrible for him. I hope he is ok. I am very sorry to him

21/10/2016, 20:11 - [REDACTED] Ali is ok

21/10/2016, 20:11 - [REDACTED] I'm ok

Lastly, the victim is DEGRADED. Sometimes degradation goes so far, it reaches a level of dehumanisation. Evan Stark explains that women in his practice 'have been forced to eat off the floor, wear a leash, bark when they wanted supper, or beg for favours on their knees'.

I then presented to Mill Park police station and told them what I had done. Neither [REDACTED] nor the boyfriend called police.

Went to community legal center and recounted the abuse from [REDACTED] it escalated to an 8/10 almost cried. Apparently, I am eligible for victims of crime compensation or a family violence compensation package.

To add insult to trauma VICPOL gave me Berry Street number for assistance for Family violence victims. I was abruptly told on the phone that they only deal with female victims. Given men's referral line. Got a couple support. Groups for single fathers. Was crying mum tried to console me and when she said I need to forget about it...

[Family Violence]

During my relationship with my ex-wife, I endured a significant amount of psychological trauma that resulted from an emotionally unstable and at times, violent individual and due to the birth of my son felt trapped where leaving would almost certainly mean being [REDACTED] from my child. The thing that made life so stressful was that rage could come at what seemed to be random, and with such ferocity, I was often left stunned, confused and later would unknowingly enter a state of chronic hypervigilance.

I was subjected to... nail marks left in my arms to projectiles and hit with objects and fists... I was broken to habitually shut down, defend, retreat and avoid.

De-escalation strategies I learned from work were rarely effective, and I refused to escalate to becoming physical, not only because I am not a violent person but also because I had been conditioned to be submissive and fearful of anger and aggression since childhood. In high school, I experienced a vicious gang bashing, an aggressive father, assaulted while on duty with AV, and trapped inside a house with a violent patient.

At times my ex-wife's fury could be so intense I doubted her capacity to adhere to natural inhibitions to inflict damage. For a period of two to three months, I was extremely uneasy at her raging in the kitchen and having access to knives where in an enraged state may not be able to be discerning in what kind of weapon she might choose to use.

The 19th of September 2015, my ex was raging at me about how she was anxious and unhappy about my management of our finances. I was seated upstairs in the loft of our rental unit and her anger escalated to spitting at me from approx. half a meter away hitting me in the face. I can never forget the sinking low life feeling that came from it. It made me feel worthless. That I was not even good enough to eat my food off the floor with the dogs.

I hope that I have provided you with all the transparency needed for you to make an informed decision about my suitability for registration...

I have worked with Reece since 2018. His family law matter was complex, involving competing allegations of family violence during the relationship, significant mental health issues on Reece's part, Reece's criminal record, and current and future concerns about the child being exposed to significant family violence by the Mother's new partner. Reece worked extremely hard to overcome all the hurdles presented to him during his case. Reece has experienced mental health issues in the past, has been extremely proactive in addressing them, and has successfully managed them to this day. I have never had a client who has been more committed to self-development, with the ultimate goal of being a role model for his son, as Reece. Reece is extremely upfront and honest. He is to be commended for always being so child focused, rather than conflict focused (a surprisingly rare trait in family law matters!). Reece succeeded in obtaining shared care and an order for equal shared parental responsibility in relation to his son [REDACTED]. He now co-parents very successfully and compassionately with his ex-partner, who he continues to support through her own significant mental health issues.

Reece feels that, due to his history, he has often been misjudged. He feels that when people look at his past offending, they jump to conclusions about his present character, and have largely been unwilling to assist him or listen to his story without making assumptions.

the VAU has raised this issue with DHHS and has now received confirmation that these entities are now accepting persons with restrictions on their registration.

The only restriction DHHS has advised is that applicants cannot have worked in a health service for the past 14 days when they commence work with DHHS (for the purposes of confirming that they are not infected with Covid-19). You should therefore reapply.

Given the recent declaration of a state of disaster, I am wondering if Danny can take my case and others like mine to the health minister's office directly to overrule AVs position on preventing me from working in the pre-hospital setting in Victoria. Surely this is not in the best interest of public health and could be seen as vindictive and/or punitive against me personally?

IUS COGENS VICTORIA POLICE: CORRUPTION AND TORTURE

I do not accept that Mr Ferrara's application was made vexatiously or that Medical Rescue acted vexatiously in responding to the application. These concerns are not without any apparent foundation. Medical Rescue strongly disagrees with Mr Ferrara's version of events and its response to the application was both to object and to do so robustly... this was a course open to Medical Rescue and there is no basis to find... gain any collateral advantage separate to the legitimate pursuit of its defence.

2022 Feb 7                      Treat patient for chemical burn of suspected Calcium Oxide. Complete report at 0100 Feb 8 and submit to management.

2022 Feb 7                      Text Message to HOST RE: Chemical exposures

It looks like I may have discovered what could be a major incident here at site as there have been medical presentations that have links to each other consistent with an exposure to a hazardous chemical.

It appears to be either Calcium Hydroxide, Sodium Hydroxide or an acid/base that has caused burns to several personnel over the past two months. I have explained to Justin and a supervisor here verbally and the evidence continues to point to Lime. Typically my experience in resources if you do anything that anyone in management doesn't like the sound of you're blocked from site. So far they have been awesome but I thought I would give yourself and the guys coming a heads up

2022 Feb 10                    A case has presented that requires overnight monitoring

so I am staying in the clinic doing hourly obs. I still need to consult with the Dr if he wants him medevac'd but I feel RFDS wont Jet him out because he is stable.(Unexplained hypoxaemia)

At this stage from what I can gather, there's a substance that may have escaped controls and could be responsible for clusters of presentations to the clinics 2022 Feb 13                    Patient presents with severe symptoms with ECG changes and unexplained hypoxaemia. Two others present with similar symptoms. Notify management that a HAZMAT event is required.

Management remove me from duty with security while treating patient. Send whistleblower email.

QLD Police Andrew Grafton:

I have reached the following decision that the matter will be withdrawn and no evidence will be offered and the charge dismissed along with hearing vacated. I have taken in account your mental health and on going issues and acknowledge them. I have taken into account the expense placed upon you to return to Queensland and your current financial status as outlined in your e mails. The arresting Officer is overseas and the Goondiwindi Magistrates Court does not have the facilities to make international calls, one other officer has transfer to North Queensland and the expense associated with travel and accommodation is not in the public interest

Joint Select Committee on Coercive Control, Parliament of New South Wales, 'Coercive control in domestic relationships', (Report No. 1, 2021/06) at [2.1]

'Coercive control is a pattern of behaviour that aims to dominate and degrade a person and deprive them of their freedom and sense of autonomy. It usually involves a man abusing by controlling their female partner or ex-partner, but it also occurs in same sex relationships, and there are cases of female perpetrators abusing by controlling their male partners.'

"There are all these little humiliations, and you may not want to confess to friends or family because it is humiliating that that is what is going on. It is kind of death by a thousand cuts – all of the small ways in which, if you do not have material resources, you are not really fully participating in life as a citizen."<sup>28</sup>

"Ultimately, domestic abuse and coercive control is not a form of abuse defined by incidents. It is a pattern of entrapment."<sup>29</sup>

I solemnly affirm and declare that the evidence given by me to the court in this Chronology is the truth and nothing but the truth
