Day 2

Gray's Crossing
Grays Crossing •

Old Greenwood Golf Course, 13051 Fairway Drive, Truckee 96161, United States

A Peter Jacobsen/Jim Hardy designed championship golf course, The Golf Club at Gray’s Crossing gives golfers a premier 18-hole mountain golf resort experience.

At Gray’s Crossing, golfers will experience “a return to tradition”. Fast greens and tournament-like conditions await golfers every day. Demanding a combination of creative club choices and tactical strategies, the traditional Jacobsen design reveals his passion for fun, yet challenging play. Towering Lodgepole and Jeffrey Pines line the fairways as the course weaves through a natural mountain surrounding with Mt. Rose as its backdrop.

Old Greenwood

Old Greenwood Golf Course •

Old Greenwood Golf Course, 13051 Fairway Drive, Truckee 96161, United States

Five minutes from Truckee lies Old Greenwood, the only Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course. Situated on 600 acres of forest and meadowland surrounded by the Sierra Nevada Mountains, the course is among uncommonly beautiful surroundings. More than most courses, Old Greenwood is influenced by the land upon which it sits. The course's closeness to nature is evident in many places, especially where the rolling land, thick forests and water features collide. While the combination is breathtaking, it also presents a challenge. Though difficult, the course is eminently playable, like most Nicklaus designs. But Old Greenwood is more than an incredible golf course, it is also an upscale community replete with opportunities for full and part-time living. With so many residential options at hand, homeowners are sure to make extensive use of this gateway in the mountains. While Old Greenwood feels secluded and miles from anywhere, it is less than a 30-minute drive from North Lake Tahoe. Like Truckee, Tahoe City includes many alternatives for dining, shopping and of course, playing.
