EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The ADRC of the Northwoods, an integrated ADRC and aging unit, plays a crucial role in Forest County by aligning with the mission of the Older American Act to “link individuals to needed services.” Through this commitment, the ADRC of the Northwoods empowers individuals to make informed choices by providing streamlined access to services and benefits as outlined in the Aging Plan for 2025-2027. This strategic framework emphasizes the long-term vision of aging and disabled programs. By adhering to the principles of the Older Americans Act and the objectives of the Aging Plan, the ADRC of the Northwoods is dedicated to ensuring that all community members have the resources and support necessary to thrive as they age.

Community engagement plays a vital role in the success of the aging plan by ensuring that programs and initiatives aimed at enhancing the well-being of older adults in Forest County are not only effective but also sustainable in the long run.

As one method of community engagement, Forest County Commission on Aging distributed surveys to gather valuable insight for the Aging Plan. These surveys were disseminated to various services, including meals services, transportation, caretaker programs, evidence-based health programs, and other services. The findings from the surveys revealed key areas within the Aging plan for 2025-2027

- Meal Services: Survey data emphasizes the importance of nutritional support for older adults through meal assistance.
- Diverse Participation: Participants engaged in various services beyond meals showcasing diverse needs like transportation and caregiver programs.
- Support for Caregivers: Recognition of AFCSP and NFCSP underscores the vital role of caregivers in supporting aging individuals.
- Individual Preferences: Responses indicating “other” services stress the need for tailored and personalized support.
- Potential Areas for Growth: Opportunities exist to expand awareness and accessibility of services like Farmers Market Coupons and Stockboxes.

In addition to surveys, stakeholder’s meetings have played a crucial role in shaping our approach with the Aging Plan. The insights gathered from these meeting have further informed our understanding of keys areas that are as follows:

- Comprehensive Approach: Holistic care is crucial to effectively meet the diverse needs of the aging population.
- Interconnected Services: Stakeholders highlight the importance of seamless coordination for comprehensive care.
- Person-Centered Care: Emphasis on unique needs and preference of older adults including personal hygiene and hospice care.

- Advocacy and Policy Implications: Discussion on Medicare, Medicaid, and nursing facilities underscore the need for policy enhancements.
- Addressing Social Isolation: Initiatives like Visiting Angels aim to combat social isolation among older adults.
- COA/ADRC Merger: Transparency and alignment post-merger enhance service delivery and community support.
- Transportation Accomplishments: Notable achievements in transportation services highlight the importance of reliable options.

Moving forward, we are dedicated to enhancing community engagement by actively seeking input from diverse groups, including both of our County's Native American tribes, senior centers, local organizations, and faith-based communities. By incorporating their perspectives and feedback into the Aging Plan, we will implement inclusive decision-making processes that prioritize the well-being, dignity, and independence of all individuals. Our focus in sustainable and collaborative services will ensure the Aging Plan effectively meets the evolving needs of our aging population.

CONTEXT

Forest County is a rural county that spans 1,014.3 square miles of land with small towns and villages scattered throughout the region and ranking the 12th largest county in Wisconsin. Located in the northern region of Wisconsin, "Forest County has a population of 9179 residents as per the 2020 census. The county seat is situated in Crandon. Established in 1885, Forest County takes its name from the forested terrain that defines its boundaries. Known for its extensive array of lakes, forests, and outdoor recreational options, the county offers a haven for outdoor enthusiasts. The Chequamegon-Nicolet National Forest covers a significant portion of the county, adding to its natural appeal. With a predominantly rural landscape, Forest County's economy is centered around forestry and tourism, making them the primary industries in the area.

The demographic data for Forest County paints a clear picture of an aging population facing unique challenges due to limited resources typical of rural areas. *The county's median age of 48.7, significantly higher than the state average of 40.4, points to an older population profile. Notably, 14.5% of residents are aged 65 to 74, 6.9% are 75 to 84, and 3.0% are 85 years or older, indicating a significant presence of older adults in Forest County.

This demographic data highlights the presence of an aging population facing challenges associated with limited resources often known in rural counties. This profile suggests that the aging population in Forest County may require specialized services and support tailored to their unique needs as they navigate the challenges of aging in a rural setting with limited resources.

^Looking ahead to 2030 and 2040, projections show a substantial increase in the older population, with estimates suggesting 4295 residents aged 55 and older, 3665 residents aged

60 and older, 2925 residents aged 65 and older, and 360 residents aged 85 and above by 2030. By 2040, these numbers are expected to rise to 4400, 3725, 3010, and 490, respectively. This growth underscores the pressing need for expanded and tailored aging services to meet the evolving needs of the aging population in Forest County.

Additionally, the county is home to a diverse group of older residents from various racial and ethnic backgrounds. Among this older population, ^24.8% of males aged 65 and older live alone, while 25.2% of females in the same age group live alone. Data collected in 2022 also shows that there are 2175 residents aged 65 and older that identify as White/Caucasian, 3 as Black/African American, 120 as Native American/Alaska Native, 5 as Asian, and 2 as Hawaiian/Pacific Islander.

The data provided highlights some key challenges faced by the aging population in Forest County. The high percentage of older residents living alone, particularly among females, suggests potential social isolation and lack of support systems for these individuals. This can have negative impacts on their mental and emotional well-being. Additionally, the presence of a diverse group of older residents from various racial and ethnic backgrounds underscores the need for culturally sensitive and inclusive services to address the unique needs and preferences of these individuals. It is important for resources and support systems to be accessible and tailored to the specific cultural backgrounds of the aging population in order to ensure equitable access to services.

Next it is essential to consider the economic challenges faced by older residents. The data on poverty levels among residents aged 65 and older reveals significant disparities: ^9% are living at 100% poverty level, 21.2% are at 150% poverty level, 31.8% at 185% poverty level, 34.4% at 200% poverty level, and 55.9% at 300% poverty level. These figures underscore the financial struggles experienced by a substantial portion of the aging population and highlight the urgent need for targeted intervention and support to address these economic disparities and improve the overall well-being of older adults in the community.

Older adults in Forest County face challenges such as limited access to food pantries, making food insecurity worse. Shopping at major stores requires at least a 30-minute drive, which is difficult for seniors with limited mobility. There is also a lack of transportation for essential errands adding to the difficulties for the aging population in Forest County. It is worth noting that Forest County Potawatomi does offer free transportation within the county, which needs to be advocated more to help address some of these challenges. Hospitals are far away, requiring a 30-minute commute, making it hard for seniors to get healthcare. Finding qualified respite care workers is extremely difficult, making our current caregivers feeling stressed and burned out. Lastly, there are not enough volunteers for critical services, putting a strain on support for older adults in need.

Given the rural nature of Forest County and the limited resources available to seniors, strategic planning and resource allocation are crucial to address the growing demand for aging services.

By leveraging the demographic data and understanding the projected increase in specific age groups within the older population, aging units can develop targeted initiatives that cater to the unique needs of older adults in the county. This proactive approach aims to bridge the resource gap, promote equity, and enhance the quality of life for older residents in Forest County.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE AGING PLAN

Community Engagement:

The insights and feedback gathered from distributing surveys to meal sites, stakeholder meetings, Stockbox distributions, and committee meetings, as well as the participation of a diverse group of stakeholders have played a significant role in shaping the goals and strategies outlined in the aging plan. By including county employees, committee members, meal site managers, Forest County Potawatomi and Sokaogon/Chippewa staff, ADRC representatives, nursing home employees and aging unit staff in the engagement process, the aging unit was able to capture a wide range of perspectives and priorities related to senior services and care.

The data collected from these engagement activities will be utilized to inform the development of specific goals and initiatives within the aging plan. By analyzing the feedback received from the surveys and stakeholder’s meetings, the aging unit can identify key priorities, challenges, and opportunities that need to be addressed to better meet the needs of older adults in Forest County. This data-driven approach ensures that the goals and strategies outlined in the plan are based on the voices and experiences of the community members and stakeholders who are directly impacted by senior services.

Moving forward, the results of the community engagement activities will continue to guide the implementation and evaluation of the aging plan. By integrating the insights and perspectives gathered from these engagement efforts, the aging unit can ensure that its programs and services are relevant and aligned with the needs of the aging population of Forest County. This collaborative approach to community engagement will enable the aging unit to develop goals and strategies that are truly reflective of the community’s values, preferences, and priorities.

Please see Appendix A for Community Engagement Reports.

Partners and Resources:

As of 2024, Forest County Commission on Aging has had an active role in partnering with stakeholder's and generating resources for the seniors living in Forest County.

Communication: Forest County Office on Aging has had regular communication between the aging unit and its partners to ensure that there is a distinct alignment on goals, strategies, and resource allocation. This involved regular meetings and updates through the Forest County Caregiver Coalition Meetings, ADRC, Nutritional Advisory Meetings, Commission on Aging Meetings, Adult Protective Service Meetings, and Forest County Coalition for Activity and Nutrition.

Collaboration: Forest County Office on Aging and its partners are working together to identify common goals and priorities, leveraging each other's strengths and resources, and developing coordinated strategies to address the diverse needs of older adults. With the collaboration of Forest County Commission on Aging and the Aging and Disability Resource Center beginning in January of 2025, the seniors of Forest County will benefit from the expertise and resources of multiple aging team members under one roof. We will also work very closely with Forest County Potawatomi and Sokaogon/Chippewa to assure we are meeting the diverse needs of older adults.

Data-Driven Decision-Making: The ADRC of Forest County, an integrated ADRC and Aging Unit, and its partners shall use the data and feedback from the surveys and stakeholder's meeting used for this Aging Plan to inform decision-making, prioritize needs, and allocate resources effectively. We will also use the feedback that we receive from our meetings with the seniors and will use their input to assist us in making informed decisions and improvements to our newly formed merger. These goals will ensure that the aging plan is responsive to the changing needs of older adults in the community.

Public Hearings:

On September 20th, the Forest County Transitions Committee held a public hearing with the important objective of collecting feedback and comments to enhance the aging plan prior to its approval by the policy-making body. This hearing was intended to serve as a vital platform for community engagement, allowing residents to express their thoughts, concerns, and suggestions regarding the aging services that affect their lives and the lives of their loved ones. Engaging the public in this process is crucial, as it ensures that the aging plan reflects the needs and desires of those it aims to serve. Unfortunately, despite these intentions, the hearing saw no input from the public, indicating a missed opportunity for community members to contribute to the shaping of the aging plan.

Despite the lack of public participation, the hearing was well-attended by several key stakeholders. Members of the county board, the county clerk, ADRC (Aging and Disability Resource Center) staff, COA committee members, social services representatives, and tribal members were present, highlighting the collaborative effort involved in shaping the aging plan. Their combined knowledge and viewpoints are essential for creating a plan that meets the various needs of the aging population in Forest County. It is important to note that several changes have already been made to the plan based on earlier discussions, showing a continued commitment to improving services for seniors and making sure their opinions are considered even if they weren't expressed in the meeting.

The agenda for the public hearing included several topics, but the aging plan was given its own specific time for discussion. This setup allowed for a detailed look at the plan's various components, focusing on the services, support systems, and resources available for the aging population. While there wasn't extensive discussion on the aging plan, the dedicated time ensured that it received the attention it needed. This focus shows how important the plan is for the health and well-being of the community as it aims to meet the specific needs of seniors. Additionally, this time provided an opportunity to identify any gaps in services and consider ways to enhance support for older residents.

On October 15th, 2024, the county board approved a resolution focused on the aging plan during their meeting. This is an important step in supporting seniors in Forest County. This plan focuses on the well-being of older residents and aims to provide the help they need. By gathering input from the community and local organizations, the plan seeks to include effective ways to support seniors. This teamwork strengthens the plan and brings together different groups that care about helping older adults. Overall, this effort shows a real commitment to improving services for seniors and making sure their voices are heard.

PROGRAM ADVANCEMENT:

Community Engagement and Public Input:

As part of the aging plan for Title III, a collaborative event will be hosted by the ADRC of the Northwoods, an integrated ADRC and Aging Unit, to address community questions and concerns. This event aims to provide a platform for older adults, caregivers, and stakeholders to share feedback, ask questions, and express concerns about aging services and programs and its merger. We will have discussions and presentations to engage everyone and address their needs. By working together as a unified department, we can make sure that we cover all of the community's needs and improve aging services as the two departments merge together.

Title III and Title VI Coordination:

The ADRC of the Northwoods, an integrated ADRC and Aging Unit, will schedule quarterly meetings with Forest County Potawatomi and Sokaogon/Chippewa tribes in order to establish an enhanced collaboration with Title VI in the near future, integrating Native American perspective and services. This consolidation will bring together the expertise, resources, and culturally relevant services of both units to better serve the needs of older adults in the community, including Native American elders. By joining forces, the unified aging units will be better positioned to coordinate and deliver comprehensive care, support, and programs that respect and honor Native American traditions and values. Looking ahead, this partnership will create an integrated approach to aging services that celebrates the Native American heritage.

An integrated meeting to discuss Title III and Title VI coordination was planned and attended on August 5th, 2024 with Forest County Commission on Aging, ADRC of the Northwoods, and Forest County Potawatomi. Sokaogon/Chippewa had been invited but was unable to attend. Several key issues were identified.

Forest County Potawatomi predominantly focuses their services on their own elders, resulting in limited inclusivity in external services. Despite this, opportunities for collaboration were discussed, including hosting Bingocize with Forest County's leader leading the classes. Forest County Potawatomi expressed their willingness to help promote Forest County's route transportation program and medical transportation services beyond the county's borders. In addition, plans were made to introduce the ADRC's initiatives such as memory cafes, the Bridges and the Buddies program to Forest County Potawatomi and Sokaogon/Chippewa.

Financially, Forest County Potawatomi benefits from having a grant writing team that collaborates with various grant finders, a resource that the county currently lacks. While collaboration on meal services may pose a challenge due to Forest County Potawatomi's existing contracts with a service provider, stakeholders unanimously agreed on the importance of holding regular quarterly meetings to enhance transparency and understanding of the services offered by each entity. As a result, the next meeting is scheduled within a month to address forthcoming changes within the county structure and to further improve transparency and collaboration among all stakeholders.

In conclusion, the stakeholders meeting involving the Aging Department, ADRC and Forest County Potawatomi highlighted key issues and opportunities for collaboration in promoting services for the elderly. Despite challenges such as limited inclusivity and potential hurdles in meal service collaboration, the shared commitment to transparency and mutual understanding bodes well for future partnerships. The forthcoming quarterly meetings and the planned initiative to introduce Forest County programs to the tribal community signifies a positive step towards fostering inclusive, supportive, and cooperative relationships that benefit all parties involved in elder care services.

Aging Unit Integration and Collaboration with the Local Aging and Disability Resource Center:

New organizational charts have been created to outline the structure post-merger, and a plan will be developed to transition employees from both aging units into their new roles within the merged entity. County Board Supervisors and key players from both entities will oversee training, job realignment strategies, and communication plans to ensure employee engagement and retention. By initiating early discussions and establishing a collaborative foundation, the aging units focus is to enhance the quality and scope of services provided to older adults and individuals with disabilities.

The merger of Forest County Commission on Aging and Aging and Disability Resource Center is scheduled to take place by January 1, 2025. To ensure a smooth transition and alignment of both departments, proactive measures will be implemented, including organizing joint planning meetings with key stakeholders to identify collaboration opportunities, establish effective communication channels, and develop a shared vision for integrated services. For transparency, purposes, the merged aging units will be hosting a meeting with the senior population to openly discuss the newly merged facility, address any concerns, and provide information on the benefits they can expect, such as increased access to healthcare services, expanded outreach activities, and the enhancement of social support programs. In addition to the meeting, an open house will be held to give the senior population an opportunity to familiarize themselves with the new organizational structure of the merged facility and meet key staff members.

Emergency Preparedness:

The Forest County Commission on Aging has been actively engaging with the County's Emergency Management Director through collaborated meetings. Notably, on December 19, 2023, we held a safety training day featuring the Emergency Management Director and the Dementia Care Specialist from the Aging and Disability Resource Center. This session focused on discussing resources, funding, and "Files for Life"—a program designed to help emergency responders access vital information quickly.

Additionally, in September 2023, we developed a Memorandum of Understanding to ensure that transportation services are available for individuals in need during emergencies. Currently, the Forest County Health Department and the Commission on Aging Department are collaborating to distribute COVID-19 tests to seniors throughout the county.

As a part of 2025-2027 Aging Plan, Forest County Health Department has implemented a mobile trailer to provide convenient access to immunizations, vaccinations, and crisis interventions for the citizens of Forest County. This initiative aims to ensure that all residents, especially the aging populations, have easy access to essential healthcare services and resources, promoting overall well-being and safety within the community. The mobile trailer serves as a valuable resource in times of need, offering crucial support and assistance to residents during emergency situations and health crises.

Looking ahead, the ADRC of the Northwoods, an integrated ADRC and Aging Unit, are committed to proactive measures. This includes ongoing training, drills, and collaboration with our partners to ensure that we are prepared and resilient. We are dedicated to applying the lessons we have learned and strengthening our partnerships to improve our emergency response efforts.

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE AND LEADERSHP OF THE AGING UNIT

The organizational chart of the Aging Unit outlines the structure and roles within the Aging and Disability Resource Center of the Northwoods (ADRC) and the Commission on Aging (COA). At the top of the chart is the Forest County Human Services Board, which provides oversight and guidance. The Human Service Board consists of nine (9) members to include four (4) County Board members, two (2) members, one (1) each from the tribal communities, one (1) member that will be a person from the community that receives/received or a family member receives/received service, and two (2) members at large.

Beneath the board, there are several key components. The ADRC/COA Advisory Committee plays a crucial role in advising the department on matters related to aging services. The chart also includes various staff positions, such as full-time employees who fulfill essential roles, like case management and family support.

Additionally, there are committees, such as the Nutrition Advisory Committee, focused on specific areas of service. The organizational chart indicates that there are a total of 17 full-time equivalent (FTE) positions and some part-time roles, contributing to the overall workforce dedicated to serving the needs of seniors and individuals with disabilities in the community.

Overall, this structure aims to ensure effective management and delivery of services within the Aging Unit, promoting collaboration and support for those in need.

Organizational Chart of the Aging Unit:

Aging Unit Coordination with Aging and Disability Resource Center:

Pre-Merger Phase:

In the pre-merger phase, Forest County Commission on Aging and Aging and Disability Resource Center will align with the newly established Transition Committee to facilitate the integration of both entities. This committee, comprised of board members and staff will assess strengths, weaknesses, and opportunities to guide the merger process. Board members on the committee will provide direction, oversee the transition, and ensure stakeholder interests are considered. Staff members will actively participate in cross-functional teams, share expertise, and prepare for the integration of services. By leveraging the Transition Committee, the pre-merger phase will benefit from established processes, communication channels, and collaboration. This shall set the stage for a smooth and successful merger.

Post-Merger Phase:

In the post-merger phase of the newly developed entity, the focus will shift towards integrating the functions of the newly formed entity into a unified organization. Board members and staff from both entities will work together to streamline process, clarify roles and responsibilities, and ensure a smooth transition to the new organizational structure. As the integration progresses, the need for the transition committee will diminish as the functions it once served become integrated into the day-to-day operations of the merged entity. Board members and staff will continue to collaborate closely to address any remaining post-merger issues, optimize service delivery, and align the organization with its strategic goals.

Statutory Requirements for the Structure of the Aging Unit:

This section refers to requirements in Chapter 46.82 of the Wisconsin Statutes. Consider if the aging unit is in compliance with the law. If the aging unit is integrated with the local ADRC, the requirements of Chapter 46.82 still apply.

State law does not permit a waiver of the requirements in this section. If a real or potential violation of the requirements of Chapter 46.82 exists, contact GWAAR for assistance in arranging a corrective action plan. Failure to do so could result in non-approval of the plan and suspension of funding.

Policy-Making Body

The policy-making body, also called the Commission on Aging, must approve the aging unit's plan. Evidence of review and approval of the draft and final version of the aging plan must be included as part of the plan. Attach evidence of this required involvement as an appendix to the aging plan. This may include descriptions of events, activities, or notes from meetings that provide evidence of involvement.

The Commission is the policy making entity for aging services (46.82 (4) (a) (1)) and an aging advisory committee is not the commission. There are term limits for the membership of the policy-making body.

List the official name of the policy-making body and chairperson in this section of the aging plan.

Official Name of the Policy-Making Body: Human Services Board

Chairperson of the Policy-Making Body: Ron Skallerud

Advisory Committee:

An advisory committee, sometimes referred to as the advisory council, is required if the policy-making body does not follow the Wisconsin Elders Act requirements for elected officials, older adults, and terms, or if the policy-making body is a committee of the County Board (46.82 (4) (b) (1)).

When an aging unit has both an advisory committee and a policy-making body, a key role of the advisory committee is to advise the policy-making body in the development of the aging plan and to advocate for older adults. Attach evidence of this involvement as an appendix to the aging plan. This may include descriptions of events, activities, or notes from meetings that provide evidence of involvement.

Chapter 46.82 (4) (b) (1) of the Wisconsin Statutes requires that the membership of the aging advisory committee (where applicable) must consist of at least 50% older people, and individuals who are elected to office may not constitute 50% or more of the membership. There are no term limit requirements for the membership of advisory committees.

Some aging units have combined their aging advisory committees and ADRC boards. This is acceptable if the county follows the membership requirements of the advisory committee 46.82(4) (b) (1) and the ADRC scope of services. Seek additional guidance from GWAAR regarding combined ADRC boards and advisory committees if desired.

The nutrition advisory council, which is a requirement of the OAA for the Elder Nutrition Program, is a separate body from the advisory committee required by Chapter 46.82.

List the official name of the advisory committee and chairperson in this section of the aging plan.

Official name of the advisory committee: Human Services Board

BUDGET SUMMARY:

Aging units are required to submit an annual budget to GWAAR using a budget worksheet approved by the Bureau of Aging and Disability Resources. Final budgets for CY 2025 are to be submitted with the aging plan on November 8, 2024. Due dates for annual aging unit budgets for CY 2026 and 2027 will be determined in cooperation with GWAAR and BADR and communicated with aging units when the dates are set.

The budget worksheet is separate from the budget summary section of the aging plan. Aging units are required to copy the budget summary table from the budget worksheet and insert it into the aging plan. The budget summary must be clearly posted on a public webpage for review following final approval by the tribal governing body.

In addition to the budget summary table, aging units may choose to add pie charts or graphs to highlight how funds are spent for services and supports for tribal elders and caregivers. This is an opportunity to show the public how Title III funds are spent including the proportions of local, state, and federal dollars.

Signed verification of intent

The person(s) authorized to sign the final plan on behalf of the Commission on Aging and the County Board must sign and indicate their title. This approval must occur before the final plan is submitted to the area agency on aging for approval.

In the case of multi-county aging units, the verification page must be signed by the representatives, board chairpersons, and Commission on Aging Chairpersons, of all participating counties.

We verify that all information contained in this plan is correct.

Assurances of Compliance with Federal and State Laws and Regulations

The assurances below often refer to requirements of area agencies on aging (AAAs) and is absent of references to aging units. Wisconsin's structure of AAAs and local county and tribal aging units differs from other states but is recognized in state statute 46.82 and by the federal Administration for Community Living. Therefore, AAAs and county and tribal aging units are required to provide assurances of compliance with federal and state laws in the delivery of Older Americans Act programs and supports.

The structure of AAAs in Wisconsin are as follows:

1. An agency designated as the AAA must subcontract with counties, tribal nations, or providers to carry out Older Americans Act programs. The AAA, in a binding contract with the state, and counties and tribal nations, in a binding contract with the AAA, must support and comply with requirements under the Older Americans Act (Public Law 89-73) [As Amended Through P.L. 116-131, Enacted March 25, 2020] Reference: 45 CFR Part 1321 – Grants to State and Community Programs on Aging as updated in March 2024.
2. A county designated as the AAA must designate a department of local government as the aging unit. The AAA and the county aging unit are bound by a binding contract with the state and must support and comply with requirements under the Older Americans Act (Public Law 89-73) [As Amended Through P.L. 116-131, Enacted March 25, 2020] Reference: 45 CFR Part 1321 – Grants to State and Community Programs on Aging as updated in March 2024.

AAAs and aging units are subject to the requirements in the Wisconsin Elders Act 235, often referenced in Chapter 46.82 of Wisconsin Statutes. Please note: Chapter 46.82 has been updated to reflect changes in programs originally referenced in the Act when passed in 1991.

A signed copy of this statement must accompany the plan. The plan must be signed by the person with the designated authority to enter into a legally binding contract. Most often this is the county board chairperson or tribal governing board chairperson. The assurances agreed to by this signature page must accompany the plan when submitted to the AAA or Bureau of Aging and Disability Resources.

The assurances need not be included with copies of the plan distributed to the public.

Use the template provided below and include as an appendix to the aging plan.

Describe the method used including partners and outreach done to solicit responses: Kathy Fohrman, Director with the Commission on Aging, facilitated the meeting to ensure that all participants had the opportunity to share their perspectives and to keep the discussion focused and constructive. During a collaborative brainstorming session, all stakeholders were encouraged by the facilitator to contribute their ideas and recommendations for the aging plan. This led to the creation of solutions that may cater to the needs of the aging population. Subsequent meetings are scheduled to further build on these ideas.
Describe how the information collected was used to develop the plan: Throughout the stakeholders' meeting, key needs were identified and the county's top priorities were discussed. The collected information will be used to allocate resources effectively. Stakeholders were provided with survey data to guide their contributions to the aging plan, fostering collaboration and shared ownership. A decision was made to continue future meetings to work toward achieving outcomes.
What were the key takeaways/findings from the outreach? Comprehensive Approach: Due to the wide array of topics we covered—including transportation, hospice care, personal hygiene, nursing facilities, loneliness, Medicare/Medicaid, household chore assistance, health services, and volunteer programs—we were able to underscore the significance of adopting a holistic approach to meet the diverse needs of the aging population. Interconnectedness of Services: Stakeholders engaged in a lively discussion about numerous services and programs available for the aging population, demonstrating interconnectedness. The importance of collaboration to ensure seniors receive comprehensive care was emphasized. Person-Centered Care: This meeting underscored the significance of person-centered care, focusing on the unique needs and preferences of older adults. Topics such as personal hygiene, hospice care, and volunteer programs were discussed to enhance our understanding of promoting dignity, autonomy, and well-being among older adults. Advocacy and Policy Implications: We briefly covered Medicare/Medicaid, nursing facilities, and health services. Stakeholders are eager to raise awareness and advocate for improvements in policies, funding, and programs related to these aspects of aging care in upcoming meetings.

Addressing Social Isolation: This topic was highly significant for our stakeholders. We explored programs like Visiting Angels to emphasize the importance of combating social isolation and fostering social connections among older adults, thereby promoting mental well-being.

COA/ADRC: Stakeholders were briefed on the merger of the ADRC and Commission on Aging, which aims to enhance transparency and accountability in service delivery. It is crucial for stakeholders to stay informed about organizational changes, service improvements, and performance outcomes to ensure the merged entity remains responsive to community needs and accountable to stakeholders. This awareness will contribute to improving the well-being and quality of life for older adults.

Transportation Accomplishments: By offering free rides within the county, Forest County Potawatomi has made significant strides in enhancing local transportation accessibility. Meanwhile, Forest County Commission on Aging's extension of social and medical transportation services beyond the county has enhanced collaborative efforts. These accomplishments could greatly improve transportation services, making sure residents can easily access transportation wherever they need to go. However, a goal for these accomplishments could be to expand service coverage and increase frequency. This involves raising awareness and encouraging more residents to use these transportation options which can improve their mobility and overall quality of life.

What you Want Us to Know

Aging Services that are being used by Participants:

The survey data reveals a diverse range of participation in aging services, reflecting varied needs and interests among older adults. The emphasis on nutrition, transportation, community engagement, caregiver support, and health promotion suggest a holistic approach to addressing the well-being of the elderly.

Meals:

The survey of 45 participants provided insights into perceptions and recommendations regarding aging services, particularly focused on meal programs. The majority of respondents (73.3%) expressed satisfaction with the meals provided, with varied opinions on portion sizes and specific preferences for menu items noted. Participants generally viewed the nutrition site staff positively (73.9%), highlighting their friendliness and helpfulness. Recommendations for improvements included offering more fresh fruits and vegetables, expanding soup options, and ensuring meals cater to diabetic-friendly diets. These findings emphasize the importance of responsive service delivery and dietary diversity in enhancing participant satisfaction with aging services.

Transportation:

The data suggests that while a majority of the surveyed respondents did not require transportation services, there exists a notable subset that either lacks awareness of available options or is dissatisfied with them. This finding underscores the importance of improving outreach and communication about transportation services to ensure all potential users are informed. Overall, the survey shows that people have different needs and preferences for transportation services, suggesting opportunities to improve how accessible and satisfying these services are for older adults.

New and Updates:

Overall, the survey data reveals a spectrum of opinions and concerns among participants regarding the integration of COA and ADRC in Forest County. While some express optimism about improved service coordination and efficiency, others harbor concerns about potential drawbacks such as reduced service options and communication challenges. The data underscores the importance of clear communication, transparency, and active stakeholder involvement in ensuring the integration meets the diverse needs and expectations of older adults in the community. Addressing these concerns proactively can help mitigate potential challenges and foster a more unified and effective approach to aging services in Forest County.

Senior Services and General Information:

The survey data indicates a diverse set of needs and viewpoints among seniors regarding services and their perception within the county structure:

- Service Needs: There is a clear demand for expanded services in areas such as activities, emergency preparedness, transportation, and advocacy. Specific suggestions highlight a desire for both social engagement opportunities and practical support services.

- County Engagement: The responses on knowing County Supervisors and perceptions of respect within the county structure show a mixed level of engagement and satisfaction with representation. This suggests potential areas for improved communication and outreach to better serve and engage the senior population.
- Overall Satisfaction: While a majority feel that seniors are respected and valued, a notable minority expressed concerns about respect and representation. This indicates a need for ongoing dialogue and efforts to ensure inclusivity and responsiveness in county services and policies.

In conclusion, meeting identified service needs and improving communication and engagement with seniors could enhance satisfaction and better meet community expectations. Establishing regular feedback channels and inclusive decision-making processes will be essential for effectively addressing the diverse needs of seniors.

New coalition created to protect Wisconsin lakes

A broad coalition of Wisconsin groups recently formed to defend Wisconsin's waters from the devastating impacts of wake-enhanced boating.

Originating members of the coalition include Wisconsin Lakes, Wisconsin's Great Lakes, Wisconsin's Lake Superior, Lake Superior Wilderness Alliance, and the Wisconsin Wildlife Federation.

The group will focus on educating elected and appointed officials about the damage done to Wisconsin lakes by wake-enhanced boating.

The group is also determined to implement policies that protect Wisconsin waterways.

"This coalition will be laser-focused on protecting Wisconsin's lakes from the devastation done by these wake boats. Our organizations will stand shoulder to shoulder in protecting Wisconsin's many lakes," remarked Dan Bolkos, President of Wisconsin Lakes.

"We know from scientific research that wake boats present big threats to our lakes, including spreading harmful invasive species, a multi-million-dollar problem in Wisconsin. Unlike other watercraft, the design of a wake boat's internal ballast system makes it nearly impossible to fully empty and decontaminate those boats, increasing the risk of spreading invasives and damaging the way our lakes look and function," said Melissa Johnson, Executive Director of Wisconsin's Green Fair.

"Wisconsin's love our lakes and are very concerned by the negative impact of wake-enhanced boating. We are all witnessing firsthand the damage to our shoreline and lake bottom throughout Wisconsin. Our glacial lakes are not built to sustain the damage these

COMMITTEE: TRANSITION – PUBLIC HEARING WITH MEETING TO FOLLOW IMMEDIATELY AFTER PUBLIC HEARING

DATE: SEPTEMBER 20, 2024

TIME: 3:30 P.M.

PLACE: FOREST COUNTY BOARDROOM

PUBLIC HEARING

The Public Hearing of the Transition Committee on the 2025-2027 Commission on Aging Plan, the Integration of the ADRC and the Commission on Aging and the Forest County Human Service Department and the Forest County Human Service Department was opened to the Public by County Board Chair at 3:30 p.m. in the Forest County Boardroom.

Attendance was taken by all that were present for the Public Hearing.

Chairman Skallerud discussed each separate hearing highlights and what the County has submitted for the transition of the departments. Patrick Cork, consultant also spoke to the final plans and how the County has come to where it is with the dissolution of the Human Service Center and the three counties originally involved in the original agreement. He also explained the ADRC/COA combining and how the ARDC was originally formed and how the dissolution came about with all of the other Counties and partners involved pulling out. The last other County that pulled out was Taylor County to form their own ADRC/COA.

Highlights included: The plans have been submitted to the State oversight Departments for the Human Service Department (Draft submitted as requested) and the ADRC/COA integration application. There have been preliminary approvals from the DOC and DCF; however, they are awaiting the approval of DHS. The listed agencies were advised that the Public Hearing would take place, and the County would solicit comment in both written and verbal input to determine if any additional changes would be needed. The County had also advised the State oversight Departments that final resolutions would be taken up at the October County Board Room. The DHS has notified the county that the secretary will approve the final draft of the integration plans before a final resolution is passed. However, the County was also advised that if one word was changed from the approved final draft, the approval would be rescinded, and the approval process would have to go through the process again.

The organizational structure of the ADRC/COA and Human Service Center has been submitted, with one typo with the Human Service Board, which will oversee the whole department. Skallerud will modify the draft, which will be made up of nine (9) members to include four (4) County Board members, two (2) members, one (1) each from the Tribal communities, one (1) member that will be a person from the community that receives/received or a family member receives/received service, and two (2) members at large.

The Forest County Human Service Department structure will give the County more control over ensuring that appropriate services are delivered to residents and behavioral/mental health responses are prompt.

A sheet was handed out by the Chairman, Skallerud, that outlined all of the services the County has to provide and how the County will offer those services. (Document will be included as an official part of the hearing). The document will also be attached as an addendum to the final draft submitted to the DHS, DCF, and DOC.

The effective date of the ADRC/COA transition and the Forest County Human Service Department implementation will occur on January 1, 2025. The five (5) ADRC employees were offered conditional offers of employment, and to date, the County has four (4) of the five (5) accepted the conditional offers.

The 2025-2027 Aging Plan has been updated and is due to be submitted by November. The County has applied for a Waiver for the Aging Director to run the Nutrition, Transportation, and other current Commission on Aging (COA) programs. The County is currently running the COA under a waiver, but with the transition, it had to be submitted for approval again with GWAAR.

No communication (written or verbal testimony or comments) from the Public was received pertaining to the Public Hearing, so Chairman Skallerud closed the Hearing at 4:32 p.m.
