

Entry Guidelines

The Saturday 'Visiter' Awards are an honor presented by Poe Baltimore, recognizing Edgar Allan Poe's continuing legacy in the arts and literature around the world. The prizes recognize the best media, art, performance and writing that adapts or is inspired by Poe's life and works. Eligible works are not restricted by medium or genre. The awards are named for the Baltimore publication that awarded young Poe a prize for writing which launched the famed writer's career. Prize medals will be presented at The International Edgar Allan Poe Festival & Awards in October 2022, in Baltimore, Maryland.

Categories

Entries may be submitted within the following categories:

1. "Adaptations of E.A. Poe's Life or Works"

Any artistic work that presents the historical facts of Poe's life and likeness, or faithful adaptation or performance of Poe's writing. Examples might include: a stage, film or recorded audio performance of Poe's prose or poetry; musicals or compositions; portraiture or other artistic rendering of Poe's likeness. Non-period or modern-day adaptations may qualify in this category provided the entry is clearly presented as directly representative of Poe's life or works. Historical biography also qualifies in this category due to the narrative nature of such works. Please note the Saturday Visitor Awards are focused primarily on artistic works rather than academic or critical interpretation, so critical or academic treatises do not qualify for entry.

Biographical entries that judges feel are ahistorical may be moved to the "original works" category at the discretion of the judges or administrator.

2. "Original works inspired by E.A. Poe's Life and writing"

Any original work that draws direct inspiration from Poe's life or writing. Examples might include Poe or an historical person significant to Poe's life as character in film, novel or play; use of some element of Poe's written works (setting, character, plot) for sequel, prequel or basis for original story. In every case the entrant must clearly state and illustrate how Poe inspired the work. A dramatic telling or narrative of Poe's life that purposely changes the historical facts for storytelling purposes might also qualify for this category.

Who Can Submit Entries

Entries may be submitted by an artist, producer, publisher, author or any member of the creative team. An ensemble member may submit, but the rights holder must be available to confirm permission to enter.

Publishers and production companies are invited to submit entries in either category. Self-published or independently-produced works are eligible. In each case, the rights holder must be identified and permission granted by them to be considered for an award.

**Entrants are limited to one submission per category. Multiple entries in a single category are not permitted; please select your best work and save additional entries for subsequent years.****

Eligibility

Works of any medium and genre released, printed, distributed or first performed between January 1, 2019, and December 31, 2021 (the previous three years). Digital or web-based entries may also qualify but must have been first published/posted in this period. This three-year window will continue in subsequent years, thereby phasing out eligibility as time passes. A work may be submitted again in subsequent years if it still qualifies as eligible.

Re-printed or re-released materials are discouraged unless the work has been materially changed, updated or edited in a significant way; in such cases, the panel judges will determine eligibility and their decision is final. A work may be nominated in more than one year, but a winning entry may not be entered again, including parts/components such as individual segments within the whole.

Works published or created outside the U.S. are eligible, but at this time the work must be in English or provide English-language subtitles.

Criteria

The primary consideration for judging submissions will be overall quality. Popularity or sales will not determine selection of nominees. The purpose of the Saturday Visiter Awards is to celebrate Poe's continuing legacy in the arts, and to recognize a new generation of artists and writers who keep Poe in popular culture.

How to Enter

Entries are submitted and processed digitally via the Saturday Visiter Awards Call for Entries portal which opens January 19, 2022. The fee to enter a work for consideration is $25.00 (USD). Every work will require separate entry fee, even if the same creator/creative team is entering a second piece in the alternate category. Entrants are required to provide contact information (anonymous entries are not permitted) and a valid URL/link to the work for the judges to consider.

Entrants are strongly advised to provide link to a format easily accessible to the judges (i.e. PDF, JPG, PNG) and that does not require specialized software to play or open. Do not send URL that requires password. The entrant is responsible for providing a working link; the administrator will contact the applicant one time to fix the URL if the work is not accessible to the judges, after which the entry will be disqualified without refund. The applicant is responsible for providing correct contact information.

Should you feel your piece is best represented in physical format, you will have opportunity to share this with the judges, however URL for entry is still required.

A statement must accompany your submission, indicating title of the work and the selected category. Every entrant must provide the title of the piece and the artist credits.

Longform entries such as novels or works for stage, television, web or film should provide a link to the entire work, plus notes bookmarking a representative chapter or segment (10,000 words) or timestamp for representative segment (20 minutes) for the judges' first round consideration. Entrants may later be asked to provide additional information/materials at the judges' discretion. Scripts may also be submitted as supporting materials for performances such as film/web/television.

The Selection Process

An independent panel of judges will carefully consider all entries and choose a final ballot of up to ten (10) nominees in each category. The nominees will be notified and announced on or before July 30, 2022. Once chosen, nominees are:

- Awarded a "nominee" designation to adorn their work
- Listed in the Poe Fest International program
- Invited to attend and/or perform during Poe Fest Int'l (travel/accommodation not provided)
- Provided free vendor table at the festival to present their works and meet attendees within a special booth for nominees on festival grounds
- Provided one (1) ticket to the presentation ceremony; additional tickets at 50% discount.

Nominees will then be ranked by the judging panel and the top three (3) in each category selected for awards. Saturday Visiter Awards will be presented at The International Edgar Allan Poe Festival & Awards in October 2022, in Baltimore, Maryland.

Award Winners

Winners will be awarded a prize medal and a "Saturday Visiter Award Winner" designation to adorn their work for all time. Winners are also invited to attend the following year's Poe Fest International and provided a free vendor table to present their winning work and meet attendees.
