

In a national survey

44% of Canadians

found their relationship with animals or pets to help in continuing their recovery from addiction.

