You Are Not Alone: Why Connection is Key

For aging seniors, their caregivers and families, connection means crucial support.

An estimated 4.1 million New Yorkers provide 2.68 billion hours of unpaid care valued at $32 billion dollars annually. For the nearly quarter of a million residents in Suffolk County 65 and over, many are unaware of where to turn when they need support.

You are not alone. As we celebrate National Caregivers Month, we invite you to find information and local organizations ready to help, connect with support groups and get the information you need – all in one place.

You'll have the opportunity to learn about:

Caregiver Resources
Senior Resources
Memory Care Programs
Senior Living Support & Options
Visiting Nurse Services
Suffolk County Office For The Aging
Free Neurology Screenings by
Stony Brook Center for Excellence for Alzheimer's Disease (CEAD)

We're bringing the surrounding community together, beginning with the ageless music of Barbra Streisand, performed LIVE by Long Island's own, Mary Solitto, whose voice has been compared to Barbra, Celine and Cher.

Light refreshments will be served.
Limited Seating. Registration is required.

Come to the Concert,
Leave with a Community of Resources!
