DISCIPLINE POLICY

Discipline

Time-Out

Time out can only be used for children two-year old and up. The time limit for a child in time out must be no more than the child's age in minutes. If a child is two years-old they can only be made to sit in timeout for no more than two minutes. Children under the age of two can use independent play to be separated from problem areas. The child must be given a toy or an activity while in independent play.

Progressive Classroom Discipline

Discipline techniques are examples to be used with children and are not the "end all" of discipline possibilities. There are exceptional situations for everyone. This is to give everyone the same information base to build from. Consequences should fit the severity of the behavior.

The following steps and techniques will accomplish this goal:

1. Ignoring – To be utilized as a teaching tool to help children learn to solve their own problems when a small situation between classmates presents. This technique means that the teacher notices that the situation is present, they are close by, unobtrusively listening and observing, ready to intervene with distraction, redirection or more, should the situation call for it. Ignoring as a behavior technique does not mean we not listening or supervising.
2. Distraction – The teacher changes the subject content or the activity to a more appropriate subject or activity.
3. Redirection – Teacher redirects or addresses unacceptable choices of behavior and asks for acceptable ones.
4. Time Out – The teacher goes to the child and asks them (in a quiet voice tone) to be separate from the group to a designated quiet area to allow for refocusing themselves so that they can then return to the normal functions of the class. This refocusing period of time will not be more minutes than the child's year of age (i.e. 7 years old would not be more than 7 minutes, etc.). Before a child rejoins the group, Teachers are expected to talk with them to clarify the need for the refocusing time and ask the child what different choice they could have made that would have avoided the time out.
5. Notes to Parents – Most choices of misbehaviors are in a range we call normal behaviors and can be managed by above steps and would not result in a note to a parent about "Normal Childhood Behavior." If a pattern of these behaviors continues or if a behavior choice is out of bounds of the expected or tolerated choices of preschoolers a note can be sent home to the parents by the teacher.
6. Daily Folders – In the event there is behavior/biting issue(s) we will communicate daily with parents, to make them aware of current classroom situations, behaviors, etc. We use this technique so we may be in unity with one another and be a positive reinforcement both at school and home. A meeting for a plan of action will be set up and implemented to benefit the child, their families and the staff.
7. The Director (or other management staff) – If a child's behavior choices results in a risk to the safety of the environment, is part of an ongoing pattern of behavior, or is seriously out of bounds they will be sent to the Director for a consult. This meeting will either result in a note home from the Director or a phone call to the parent with the child present. An additional conference with parents may be requested without the child present.

WE DO

Communicate to children using positive statements.

Communicate with children on their level.

Talk with children in a calm, quiet manner.

Have the child apologize for their behavior. Forgiveness feels good. 😊 Using big voices with each other helps them to improve social and emotional skills that will become a part of their adult life.

Example: Child 1: It hurts me when you hit me
 Child 2: I apologize for hitting you.
 Child 1: Okay.
 Child 2: Please forgive me.
 Child 1: Okay

Explain unacceptable behavior to children.

Give attention to children for positive behavior.

Praise and encourage the children.

Reason with and set limits for the children.

Apply rules consistently.

Model appropriate behavior.

Set up the classroom environment to prevent problems.

Use storybooks, skits and puppets to work through common conflicts.

A safe environment is a “must” for the operation of any quality child-care center. The goal for Discipline in Sherwood Christian Academy program is to maintain a safe environment by redirecting children’s choices of behaviors to socially acceptable choices while maintaining their personal dignity and self-esteem so they can be positive, contributing members of society.

If a child’s behavior consistently endangers the safety of the children around him/her, or the program of Sherwood Christian Academy then the Director has the right, to terminate child-care services for that particular child.
