About you and your insurance policy

You have a duty to give us a 'fair presentation of the risk'.

It is important that you provide us with all of the relevant information about you and the business that we require in order to decide whether we can insure you and the business and if so on what terms and conditions and premium.

This must include information that you know or that you ought to know (or failing that, enough information for us to ask you for further details).

This statement of fact is a record of the information you've given us and any assumptions we've made about you and your business.

We assume you've made reasonable efforts to find all relevant information held:

- in your business (including by management and anyone arranging the insurance); and
- by anyone else (such as someone who's covered by this insurance).

Information about the cover and sums insured that you've asked for are in the schedule.

We've used the information you've given us to calculate your premium and apply terms and conditions. If there are any material changes to information you've given to us during the duration of this policy, please let us know immediately.

Please check all of the documents. If any details are incorrect, incomplete or missing, tell us straight away. Otherwise your policy could be invalid or we might not pay all or part of your claims.
