Competition Definitions

The following terms are used throughout competitions. In an effort to help competitors thoroughly understand the competition rules the following definitions are provided. You should familiarize yourself with all the terms that applicable to you.

Acetone

A solvent from the ketone family that dissolves nail polish and acrylics for removal.

Acid Primer

An acidic primer, usually methacrylic acid type primer, which helps enhancement products stick to the natural nail.

Acrylic

A nail system using two parts: liquid monomer and powdered polymer. A precise ratio of the two components forms a hard, cured coating on the nails. This is the strongest nail coating option.

Acrylic brush

A special brush used to apply the acrylic nail product. The brushes usually feature natural hair bristles and are available in different sizes and shapes.

Attire

A model's clothes, outfit or costume plus accessories.

Avant Garde

Artistic Style with ideas that are experimental, cutting-edge and innovative in the use of technique, medium, style and relationship to context.

Competition Director

A representative of management who is in charge of the entire competition, along with organization of all the contests, this person has the final interpretation on any questions or situations that may occur.

Competition Chairperson

An individual who is responsible for the supervision of a specific competition or group of competitions.

Consumer

One who uses materials or services for one's own personal needs.

Cosmetic Enhancement

Any permanent or temporary make-up, moisturizers, false eyelashes, temporary tattoos, paint, glitter, etc.

Cure

Hardening of a nail coating. Curing is not the same as drying. Nail products continue to cure even after they are dry.

Fill-in

Maintaining nails after the initial full set. As the nails grow, this process adds acrylic to cover those new areas. Acrylic nails typically require fill-ins every two or three weeks. This process is also called back-fill, fill, touch-up or maintenance.

Forms

Paper with adhesive backs that are placed under the free-edge at the fingers end to extend the acrylic past the fingertip. Forms may also come in re-useable styles that are made out of thin, flexible plastic and bendable wire.

General Penalty Points

Points subtracted from a competitor's final score for infractions of the General Rules of the competition.
