

CUES Advanced Management Program from Cornell University

eCornell Online Course: July 1, 2025 – April 30, 2026

Looking to fill your leadership pipeline? Send your emerging leaders to the CUES Advanced Management Program from Cornell University.

In just nine months, they will:

- Understand what it takes to be a successful executive by exploring eight C-suite roles.
- Learn directly from top Cornell University faculty members, 100% online.
- Earn their Certified Credit Union Executive Manager (CEM) designation and an Executive Certificate in Management and Leadership from Cornell University and CUES.

In 9 months, through 8 courses and live online sessions, they'll explore a research-based curriculum with external industry perspectives and immediately implement their learning to improve daily work and credit union contributions.

This hybrid learning model offers Ivy League-caliber education with the convenience of self-directed learning and prepares your emerging leaders for advancement when the opportunity arises.

Register your future leaders today at content.cues.org/amp.