María Blanco

Senior Lecturer in Spanish Language Learning Strategies Coach maria@mariablancocoaching.com www.mariablancocoaching.com

In this session, you will discover:

- about your approach and challenges learning vocabulary.
- 2 approaches for learning to expand and memorise vocabulary effectively.
- steps for memorising new specific vocabulary really well.

Let's talk

Why is it important to learn a wide range of vocabulary?

What about you?

1. What strategies have you used to learn vocabulary until now?

2. What strategies have worked well for you?

3. What challenges do you experience when learning vocabulary?

How can you expand and memorise vocabulary effectively?

By exposure

By focused study

Incidentally

Intentionally

With lots of comprehensible and interesting language input (reading and listening).

By focused study

Selecting specific words and collocations and working with them until you have memorised them well.

Steps for effective focused study

1. Create multiple associations

2. Practise spaced revision

3. Practise recall

Step 1. Create multiple associations

Translate

Make connections between languages. Pasear = to go for a walk

Learn collocations

Pasear por el campo Pasear al perro

Create sentences Me encanta pasear por el campo

Make visual associations

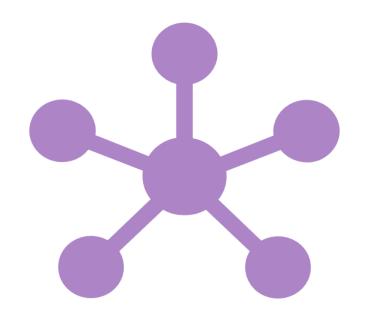

- Read the words
- Associate them with a picture/drawing
- Use colour coding

Make sound associations

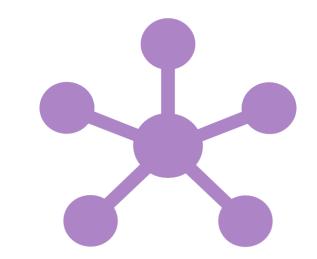

- Listen to the words
- Say the words out loud

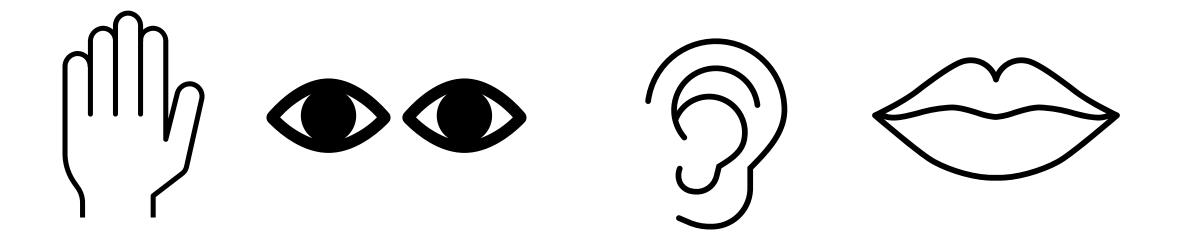

Make kinaesthetic associations

- Write the words
- Associate them with gestures

Multisensorial language learning works best for memorising

Effective ways of creating multiple associations

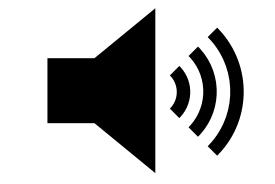

- "Multisensing" words
- Colour coding notes
- Personalising vocabulary notebooks
- Drawing vocabulary diagrams
- Designing and studying with flashcards

"Multisensing" words

Spanish		English
hijo	×	son

When checking single words in the online dictionary:

read, listen, (write) and repeat out loud

Step 2. Practise spaced revision

Space out your revision periods.

Repetitions spaced out over time generate greater long-term retention than crammed revision.

Step 3. Practise recall

Cover and check:

How much do you remember?
