

Karen’s music has also reached across cultures. In 2019, she connected with Mandarin-speaking audiences through her recording of “The Moon Represents My Heart,” a beloved classic that received 45,000 YouTube views and led to her appearance as a special guest on Leisure Talk, a Fairchild TV Talk show.

In 2022, Karen experienced another meaningful career milestone when she gave a private concert of original songs to Dr. Jane Goodall, one of her personal heroes. Having studied Goodall’s work in the time Karen obtained her Psychology degree, the performance was a full-circle moment and a tribute to the profound impact Jane’s work left on society.

Today, Karen Fowlie continues to evolve with the same passion that has carried her since 1997: honest songs, memorable live shows, and a love for lifting people’s spirits. With more concerts promised and new music coming soon, Karen is stepping into a fresh chapter of her music career ready to continue... just being herself.

“Leave your sorrow, bring your laughter. This is your happy ever after....”

(Lyrics from “Slipstream”)