Often, we are asked what a longhair Weimaraner looks like so I have included photos
The Longhair Weimaraner is AKC registered and most of our LH have European Pedigrees From Portugal, Poland, & Czech Republic – the longhair Weimaraner has been around for many years it however has not been overbred or popular in the United States, I breed the LH for the coat as I hunt in harsh winter climates – they also have a slightly calmer more balanced personality and do very well as therapy dogs we currently have 7 working in therapy and one working in search and rescue. We also have the Traditional Weimaraner with a short coat.
