

Casual help needed – Seed Packaging

Haplotech Inc. is seeking an individual to assist with harvest sample processing at our facility 1 mile north of La Salle, MB.

The candidate must:

- Be willing to work flexible hours during peak times
- Be able to work with a team and independently
- Be able to perform repetitive tasks with continued attention to detail

Assets for the job:

- Class 5 license
- Previous experience with a similar job
- Basic computer knowledge

Job duties include:

- Stickers on bags
- Sorting envelopes
- Filling envelopes
- Organizing seed bags
- Light to medium lifting may be required
- Conditions may involve dust and debris

Candidate must have their own transportation to workplace.

The position is on an as-needed, workload-dependant basis, depending on seed arrival. The position will run from approximately March 15 to April 30, 2020.

Note: The casual nature of this position allows flexibility for both parties, as Haplotech may not have work some days due to late shipment arrival, and acknowledges that the candidate may have pre-existing plans during this period. If you are interested in working for part of the packaging season please contact via the method below and we can discuss schedule options. This position is well-suited to students, people between jobs, or retired persons looking for temporary work.
