

Jamie Schmotzer of JW Apothecary - Herbalism Classes

I grew up camping from a young age. It's how I was raised. We went camping as a family since I was a baby, and as soon as I was old enough, I started Cub Scouts. As a teen and young adult, I kept up camping as a way to connect with people and relax. It wasn't until a few years ago that I heard of this new word: Bushcraft.

After being introduced to the world of Bushcraft, I took the Basic Class at the Pathfinder School in April of 2015 and became friends with the man, the myth, the legend, and my friend – the one and only Jamie Burleigh, who was Dave Canterbury's right hand man for so many years and now is the co-owner and co-founder of the Old World Alliance, a subscription based online source of bushcraft goodness and more.

At the Pathfinder Basic Class I also met Jason Hunt, owner of Campcraft Outdoors, and now, years later, I'm a Brand Ambassador for his family owned & operated business. Late 2019, at its inception, I was brought on as one of the founding instructors of the Old World Alliance, along with Jason Hunt, where I focused on family herbalism and the home apothecary.

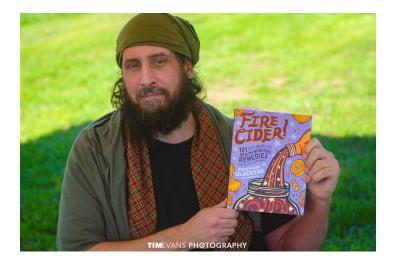

As I wrote in my contribution to the book, Fire Cider!, published last year and written by rockstar herbalist Rosemary Gladstar & Friends (including me!), perhaps my herbal journey all started when I watched the pilot episode of the television series called Kung Fu back in the 1970's and saw the main character, Kwai Chang Caine, pull herbs out of his haversack after walking across a desert to help him recover from the journey. Somehow that made an impact on me that still reverberates within me to this day.

It wasn't until I delved deeper into bushcraft, however, that I began realizing that making plant medicine is simply an extension of being a woodsman, and so I gradually learned methods of preparing herbs and making home remedies. After learning how easy it really is to get the basics down, and after gaining lots more experience, I became eager to share what I had learned with other people, and that brings us to where I'm at today - helping people get started in the world of herbalism and setting up their very own home apothecary by founding JW Apothecary LLC and being an affiliate for The Herbal Academy and also for Rocky Mountain Oils.

Besides camping, bushcraft, herbalism, and being a novice Civil War reenactor (Union civilian), I'm also a musician. I started playing the piano at church when I was 12 years old, and eventually I became fascinated with Blues guitar. Up until the Covid-19 pandemic struck I could be found jamming the Blues at a local bar every Thursday night, which I found to be quite therapeutic. You can find some of my playing on my YouTube channel, which is linked below.

Additionally, I'm an ordained Anglican clergyman. I started seminary in January of 2010, graduated with an M.A. in Ministry in 2012, continued on to earn M.Div equivalency and have nearly completed a D.Min in Ascetical Theology from Nashotah House Theological Seminary in Wisconsin. I also completed the certificate program in Spiritual Direction through the Ignatian Spirituality Institute at John Carroll University in 2015. After four years of being the Vicar of All Saints Anglican Church in North Canton, Ohio, I began a sabbatical in November of 2019 to focus on building JW Apothecary LLC.

I created www.JWapothecary.com so that people who dig what I do have a single place to go to connect with everything that I'm up to. Thanks for coming along on the ride with me!

Links to my social media presence can be found on my website! Check out my YouTube channel, where you'll find videos related to camping, bushcraft, herbalism, and even some Blues!

AlphaSixx Foster of Aplha Sixx LLC and Holistic Preparedness

Sixx Foster (known as AlphaSixx in the Preparedness and Patriot communities) and has been part of the SHTF Prepping and Survival website and Facebook team since 2016. The SHTF motto of "common sense preparedness" has highly influenced her teaching and coaching through helping folks simplify topics and discussions to be based in real life situations and circumstances.

AlphaSixx Foster and two of her kiddos cruising around Old School Survival Boot Camp in the evening after the final day in 2021.

She is a Health and Wellness Coach in-training and is launching Holistic Preparedness this year which focuses on providing even more robust educational and personal coaching opportunities for her fans and friends to help round out how to balance life and prepping as a sustainable lifestyle.

AlphaSixx with Dave Canterbury during OSS Boot Camp 2021.

Sixx - with her entrepreneur husband and 4 (homeschooled) kids – lives part-time in Indiana (urban) and Michigan (rural). Their family just recently bought their piece of land and are looking forward to building their custom butcher shop, workshop, and happy home in the coming years while gardening, raising animals and kids together with extended family next door. She is looking forward to sitting for her national boards for nutrition and health coaching this year while focusing the next school year solely on herbology.

Justin and Brittany Sandlin of Honey I'm Homestead

Last year Brittany and Justin Sandlin cut the cord and left modern society behind in late 2020. They, along with their three adorable young boys, are now living entirely off grid in a camper in the beautiful hills of southern Ohio. As Brittany puts it, they "said goodbye to life as we knew it and said hello to a hopeful, yet uncertain future!"

This young couple grabbed each other's hands and took a massive leap of faith. They launched the Honey I'm Homestead YouTube channel and Facebook page to document their inspirational journey.

"Although we've never traveled the roads ahead of us, we knew for certain staying on the roads we already knew were only taking us to a dead end or at best, a round-a-bout of stress and grief.

Life is messy, I'm not saying the answer is as simple as packing up and moving into a camper off-grid with your family. The healing starts with bringing your problems to the forefront, acknowledging them for what they are, and then working through them.

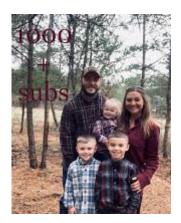

Brittany and Justin Sandlin chatting with a 2021 Old School Survival Boot Camp attendee after one of their "Honey I'm Homestead" classes.

What makes us different from everyone else? NOTHING! We had plenty of excuses to not sell out. We could have stayed in our comfort zone and everyone would have said we did our best.

Ultimately it came down to survival. We could not and would not have thrived in life if we wouldn't have taken this chance. And chance it may be, but the alternative was inevitably doomed. We would rather go down giving it hell than sit down and settle. What's stopping you? Grab the one you love and forge ahead! Brittany and Justin Sandlin chose a life that many folks dream of, but are not sure they have the knowledge, skills, or stamina to embark upon successfully.

They feel the financial freedom paired with a minimalistic lifestyle has allowed them to really focus on what's important to their family.

They find great value working closely with the land, growing nutritious food, and having quality family time. We gave up luxuries like television, high speed internet, and long hot baths, but we've gained a new life changing perspective and a whole new appreciation for each other!

Justin and Brittany are passionate about raising heritage breed livestock. Brittany truly possesses the ability to look at a blank canvas and see what could be. She gardens on a large scale, serves as the butcher on the homestead, and is studying various methods of tanning.

Donn Wagner of Lightning Creek Forge

Beginning and Advanced Blacksmithing Classes

A blacksmith is a metalsmith who creates objects from wrought iron or steel by forging the metal, using tools to hammer, bend, and cut. Donn is a Master at his craft and offers Blacksmith Courses from Beginner to Journeyman level.

Donn Wagner trains in the age-old craft of Blacksmithing as seen on The Game of Thrones and Vikings and most medieval shows and pre-1840's household items. From young to old Donn has a gift of teaching his craft to them.

Donn teaching blacksmithing during the 2021 OSS Boot Camp.

He teaches his blacksmith skills in a simple and concise manner. Donn is safety oriented which is extremely important to follow instructions considering we work with high temperatures and tools. He is respectful and kind, but is not afraid to tell it like it is if someone is doing something wrong or dangerous.

Donn will have his forge roaring all day long. In his classes you will see not only how a forge and the blacksmithing tools used work, but watch touch and learn as an item is made from start to finish.

Judi and Scott Phelps at Old School Survival Boot Camp 2021

Scott Phelps -of On Guard Defense

Scott is a USCCA Certified Concealed Carry Instructor, an NRA Range Safety Officer, and is certified to teach NRA Basic Pistol & Basic Rifle courses. He is also a NASP-certified Basic Archery Instructor (BAI)

Scott honorably served in the U.S. Army as a Fire Control Systems Repairer (45G), a squad leader, and Company Training NCO where he was responsible for ensuring that each soldier in the Company qualified annually with their respective firearms.

Mike Francis - Kage Dojo Owner and a Marine Corps veteran

At the Kage Dojo Mike Francis teaches Ninjutsu, among a myriad of other self-defense disciplines. He teaches realistic and practical self defense techniques, to empower and equip people to deal with dangerous and potentially life threatening situations.

Mike teaching a youth martial arts class at Old School Survival Boot Camp 2021.

His system incorporates all aspects of fighting such as stand up striking, joint manipulation, grappling, throws, weapon techniques and defense measures. Principles behind every technique and situation are never ignored for a deeper understanding of what we do and why.

Jamie Boggs of Burning River Bushcaft

Jamie, was raised in an outdoor lifestyle. He grew up shooting, hunting, fishing, camping and trapping at every opportunity. After 20 years as a competitive shooter, in multiple disciplines he retired from competition after winning an IDPA State title in the last match he shot. He continues to teach firearm classes as an NRA instructor.

Diving deep into Wilderness Survival rekindled his love for the woods. Jamie has attended classes from major survival schools on short and long term wilderness skills, urban survival, wilderness first aid, herbal medicine, botany and wildcrafting, green woodworking, knapping, blacksmithing, bladesmithing, bow making and trapping.

OSS Boot Camp 2021 slingshot making clas.

He is passionate about learning, testing and developing new skills. He enjoys passing on these skills either in person as an Instructor at Campcraft Outdoors, through YouTube or Online courses.

If he is not working on a new skill or sitting silently in a tree stand watching a game trail, he is probably spending time with his wife of over 20 years and their two children.

Judi Phelps with Dave Canterbury and Michael Moran during OSS Boot Camp 2021.

Nestled in the beautiful Hocking Hills region of southeast Ohio, On Guard Defense Training Center and Shooting Range is a one-stop shop for your unarmed self-defense, firearms and archery training needs.

They currently offer a 65-yard Tactical outdoor shooting range with covered firing line that supports pistol, rifle and shotgun enthusiast. Side berms and rear back stop are in excess of 20 feet. This allows shoot and move exercises, drawing from a holster, and to shoot from a variety of positions while engaging paper, steel, swinging targets and more!

The outdoor Pistol range measures 35-yards and is just a shorter version of our Tactical range without the covered firing line. A covered sitting / prep area is on range for readying your gear and having a place to relax when not shooting.

If you're into sporting clays or just want to give it a "whirl", we've got you covered! They offer a Whirlybird target thrower that launches the clays that shooters engage with 12-or 20-guage shotguns from five different shooting positions. Gun rentals available.

Eric and Shawn Seitz of Pioneer Survival Company

In August of 2016, brothers Shawn and Eric Seitz, formed Pioneer Survival Company. Throughout their childhood, the Seitz brothers demonstrated a passion for learning and sharing their knowledge of the outdoors. Through their early years, both men were heavily involved in the Boy Scouts of America. Shawn went on to become an Eagle Scout and Order of the Arrow member. Eric continued his journey, as well, moving up the ranks until his troop disbanded.

By harnessing these skills and values taught by the BSA, both brothers continued to attend various seminars and events to improve their understanding of the outdoors. Eventually, this quest led to Dave Canterbury's Pathfinder School. While studying at the school, they discovered a new perspective on outdoor skills while taking various certification courses. The friendships forged during this training further lead them to Campcraft Outdoors and Bethlehem Outdoor College.

Mentored by author and outdoor expert Dr. Jason Hunt, Shawn and Eric spent a few years under his tutelage. Eventually, they graduated with a degree in Wilderness Skills and Leadership from Bethlehem Outdoor College. As adjunct instructors, they continue to work with Dr. Hunt's Campcraft Outdoors and remain closely affiliated with several instructors in the organization.

Ultimately, the quest for knowledge and growth never ends. Shawn and Eric continue to study and educate themselves in various outdoor fields. The brothers are former USCCA certified CCW and safety instructors. Furthermore, they have taken certification courses with both the National Association for Search and Rescue (NASAR) and the American Safety & Health Institute (ASHI). Some of these courses included: Blood Borne Pathogens & Basic Life Support, CPR, Wilderness First Aid and Wilderness First Responders.

Their scope of knowledge covers a broad base including 72-hour emergency survival to long term crisis management in a wilderness or urban environment. Additionally, their services focus on the fundamentals of hunting, fishing, camping, backpacking, and homesteading. The Seitz brothers continue to hone their skills so they can educate others in the ways of safety, emergency preparedness, and critical thinking.

Shawn possesses a Bachelor of Arts degree in both English and Journalism from Ohio Wesleyan University. Also, he earned a Master's degree in Marketing & Communication at Franklin University. He retains over 23 years of writing experience in various fields. Shawn worked as a newspaper feature writer and radio talk show host.

Jay M. Hercules of Opossum Pouch Soft Goods

Jay is a bushcrafter and tailor with more than 30 years experience. He has worked with all kinds of fabrics and recently opened a new shop to showcase the tents and tarps that he now creates.

Our north star is simplicity and consistency of design. We achieve this by a focusing on the essentials and expert tailoring. We take a minimalistic approach from start to finish that results in highly effective products that are not overly complicated and are not overly tailored. Consequently, the resulting gear is not over priced. This is the O.P.S.G philosophy of Elegantly Rugged Gear. The O.P.S.G. mission is to only make gear that meets this ideal balance.

Josh Sutton

Spending my childhood raised by my grandparents I was taught the "old ways" very early in life. From how to garden and preserve your harvest to hunting and raising livestock. I had the honor to learn early in life what most wish to learn later. Many things we did I considered "normal everyday life."

It wasn't until I was an adult that I figured out my youth was spent learning more from my elders than any book could have ever taught me. I spent a little time in the "real" world but was eventually called home to the ways I was raised. I have spent the past 4 years growing a club in Kentucky focused on education and preparedness, working up to a biyearly camp that is education centered. I look forward to growing not only my own knowledge in the years to come, but sharing everything I have learned with anyone willing to learn.

Their music invokes their rural surroundings, traditions, folklore, and convictions.

Rick "Herbie" Herrold and Tami Dougan

Old School Survival Boot Camp is proud and honored to announce that Rick "Herbie" Herrold and Tami Dougan will be the entertainment headliners during Saturday evening festivities. Camp attendees will be able to relax and enjoy some amazing live music after an eventful day of hands-on self-reliance classes.

Herbie with Old School Survivor Boot Camp operator Bobby Dodrill

Herbie has been delighting crowds in the region for decades with his classic rock and a little bit country guitar playing and singing. When Herbie and members of his old band got together for one last time in a Zaleski bar a few years ago, they played to a standing room only crowd in what surely felt like 100 degree heat - yet none of the sweat-drenched fans wanted to leave even when the lengthy show finally ended.

Herbie and Tami are long-time friends and make great music together across several genres. The Old School Survival Boot Camp attendees are in for a real - and very rare treat when they take a public stage together to play for the crowd.
