

Cookies Policy

Quinn Oath Advisory Limited

Version: 1.0

Last Updated: 20 May 2026

Review Frequency: Annual or as required

1. Introduction

This Cookie Policy explains how Quinn Oath Advisory Limited uses cookies and similar technologies when visitors access and interact with our website.

By continuing to use this website, you acknowledge the use of cookies in accordance with this policy unless cookies are disabled through browser settings.

2. What Are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files placed on a user's device when visiting a website. They are widely used to enable websites to function effectively, improve performance, remember preferences, and provide analytical information regarding website usage.

Cookies may be temporary session cookies or persistent cookies which remain on a device until deleted or expired.

3. How We Use Cookies

Cookies may be used to support essential website functionality, maintain security, improve user experience, analyse visitor behaviour, and understand website performance.

Some cookies help ensure that website pages load correctly and operate as intended, while others provide information regarding visitor interaction with the website.

4. Analytics and Third-Party Services

This website may use third-party analytics providers, website hosting providers, or embedded services which may place cookies on a user's device.

These providers may collect technical information including browser type, device information, approximate location data, and website interaction activity.

Third-party providers operate under their own privacy and cookie policies.

5. Managing Cookies

Users can manage, restrict, or disable cookies through browser settings at any time.

Please note that disabling cookies may affect website functionality or user experience.

Guidance regarding cookie management can usually be found within browser help settings.

6. Changes to This Policy

This Cookie Policy may be updated periodically to reflect changes in technology, legal requirements, or website functionality.