Step 1

Place a X next to the Universe you have chosen:

_____	Join the Super Hero Organization (SHO): With this choice, you will be creating a new superhero from scratch and joining SHO in the fight against the evil @Gradepocolypse who is holding Metroville City hostage with his freeze ray. What superpowers do you have? How did you find out about them? What is your origin story? For this choice, every hero must choose Twitter account. On Twitter, your hero must follow @Gradepocolypse and publicly vow to defeat him.
X	Fan fiction choice: With this choice, you have a myriad of options available to you. You can choose any established fictional setting that you want to use as a setting to create your story. For example, you can choose from your favorite science fiction series, or horror movie, or fantasy game, or even books about wizards or web series werewolves. You will tell an original story in this established, fictional setting, bringing new characters and/or fictional organizations to life.
_____	Your own creation: With this choice, you have the option to create a story in your OWN fictional universe. Do you already consider yourself a world-builder? Do you already have a fictional world you would want to use for creating this project? If so, this is the option for you! You will tell an original story in your own fictional setting by bringing characters and/or fictional organizations to life.

Explain how you will the story below in 250-300 words.

Domingo Palacio A.K.A Dark Deterrent A.K.A Dee was seemingly a mid-level sorcerer locking up multiversal soldiers as a portal opens and swallows the sorcerer transporting him to a universe without Doctor Strange. He lands in the Sanctum Santorum at the feet of a human sized Dormammu. Dee unwittingly assumes the role of Sorcerer Supreme to stop this gigantic, dark force.

Dark Deterrent was never “Top of His Class” or even that popular, but he was one of a very few sets of hero’s tasked with retrieval status of dark sorcerers, wizards, and witches into custody of the magic S.H.I.E.L.D organization. When Dee was transported, he had nothing better to do in his daily life. This trip was a treat for him. He’ll be on his own, using his skills and knowledge to progress to Agent.

When Dee had a tip to pick up a pair of Dark Wizards, after a good chase he caught up with them. They were all on their way to lock up as a portal opens and the rest is history. Dark Deterrent lands just as that universe’s Doctor Strange is killed. Energy has found a new home, recycling to Dee.

Dark Deterrent looked up at a human sized Dormammu, the dark entity wondering who this tan man is, emanating energy and magic that can be heard across the multiverse. Perhaps he has always meant to switch places with Strange. I'm looking at this dark entity wondering if I have underestimated my abilities and strength.

Dormammu presents Dark Deterrent with a deal. He must steal The Scarlet Witches' crown, or he will be a slave for all eternity. Screaming, running from around the corner, novice sorcerer Ned Leeds sends a crushing blow to the dark entity. Ned frees Dee and they escape to plan their next move. What would Doctor Strange do? Or better yet, what would YOU do?
