National Affirming PIE Day 2026
Crafting Community
With Guest Artist Rev. David Cathcart

Saturday, March 14

Line & Wash Watercolour Workshop 10:45 am to 12:00 pm

Line & Wash is a fun and easy way to enter the world of watercolours and turn them into simple yet beautiful paintings. You will learn to sketch and draw in ink and combine it with watercolour washes to create unique and intricate works of art. When you're done, you'll have four unique bookmarks to share.

All the materials you need will be provided.

Cost: $25 (some scholarships available)

Register by Wednesday, 4 March

Lunch available from Komfort Kitchen for $22.50:

Wraps/Side Salad/Cookie/Soda

PAYMENT IS DUE AT THE TIME OF REGISTRATION.

Community

*There will be a pie auction following David's presentation, with proceeds to support Affirming work, and then we'll share some yummy pie together. No cost for those delicious slices!

About David:

"I am no artist. In 2017, my Gramma Bruce died, and as I was clearing out her things, I found an ancient sketchpad with some abandoned drawings I'd done in my early teens. My gramma hadn't kept much, but she'd kept these, and I thought, "If I'm ever going to learn to draw, I'd better get on it." In the fall, I signed up for Drawing 101-3 at Place des Arts, a local community centre. In the winter of 2018, I took a watercolour workshop (essentially an infomercial to sell expensive art supplies), and I fell in love."

Rev. David was ordained to the ministry of word, sacrament and pastoral care in 2003. He served as the first openly gay minister of Knox United Brandon from 2007 to 2012 and was active in Brandon Pride and the arts community. Knox became an Affirming Ministry during David's tenure, and he worked with the LGBTQ+ Collective at Brandon University to organize Brandon's first observance of the Transgender Day of Remembrance in 2008. David currently serves Trinity United Church in Port Coquitlam, BC on the unceded territory of the Coast Salish Peoples, the Kwikwetlem First Nations.
