Please note that the pictures must show each animal with its tags in place and with enough of the animal captured in that picture that it can be fully identified and matched to the photograph. Our goal with this part of the rule is to ensure that the animal tagged is the one exhibited at the show. Also, all hogs must show up at the fair with both tags intact; absent prior arrangements with the NWJLS. Lambs and Goats must also have their scrapie tag. Hogs must also have the required USDA tag.

The tagging rules set forth in this letter supersede any conflicting tagging rules in the NWJLS exhibitor book. All rules in the exhibitor book, on all pre-entry forms and on all other letters/documents the NWJLS has issued for the 2024 NWJLS event are still in full force and effect, apart from the rule changes set forth in this letter. Of Course, failure to comply with any rules, including those set forth in the letter, will subject the exhibitor(s) who do not comply to the sanctions or penalties specified in the NWJLS rules/regulations.

If you have questions, comments, or concerns, please contact us. We welcome any suggestions you and the exhibitors may have as those suggestions allow us to make more fully informed decisions as a Board. Also, if you would like to have a NWJLS Board Member available at tagging, please let us know. We will try to accommodate you in that regard.
