Before I start this status I just wanted to say, my biggest fear moving to Lexington was finding a babysitter that I felt comfortable with to keep my babies. But thankfully we have the absolute best babysitter in the world! She always goes above and beyond for our boys. Since she started keeping them their speech has improved tremendously, they know all their colors, numbers up to 10, their full name, all of their body parts, multiple songs, and so much more. The list could go on for days, not only does she work with them but they absolutley love her. As a mom it breaks my heart to have to work and miss my boys being small but it also is the best feeling know that they're somewhere they look forward going to every morning. They love having friends close to their age and are always excited to go. They love it so much they push me out the door in the morning and tell me to go to work. Lol. And when I didn't think it could get any better, I go to pickup the boys this afternoon and had this waiting on me. She put her heart into everything in this picture and I love that. I'm so thankful we crossed paths and that she is the one I drop my boys off to while I'm at work. She's helped my boys create crafts that I will cherish forever. I could never thank her enough for what all she does for them. ❤️

Dear Susan,

Thank you so much for training Shri as a gentleman. Today three of my friends saw me on the corridor and said “ If I want to have any kid it should be like shri” You don’t know how proud I was when Mani's friends who attended the function (which Shri and Mani attended hosted by Mani’s boss, myself and Varsha did not attend) see me and say it and they also say no wonder even your daughter will be well mannered.

Thank you so much all the credit goes to you, he was saying please and thank you and Mani's boss was really astonished when she heard a 2 yr old boy saying it. Being born in India , and having cultural diversity Mani and I were so worried how we will be bringing up the kids. My dad will say don’t worry they are in safe hands now I understand what he really meant.

Thank you once again

Sumi/Mani

Dear Susan,

Thank you for participating in the University of Kentucky Family Day Care Rating Scale conference. Our participants will gain valuable experience using the Rating Scale by visiting your home.

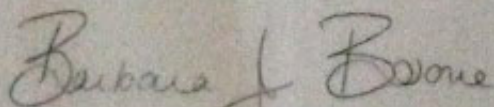

On Friday, March 13, 1994, at approximately 9:30 am three participants will come to your home and observe for no more than 2 hours. In our original phone conversation I had discussed the participants coming for only one hour. The trainers have suggested that this would not be enough time to complete the Rating Scale. If this increase in the time presents a problem to you please give me a call at 257-5083 as soon as possible.

The participants will practice using the Rating Scale by evaluating the space and materials you use in caring for young children. As I said in my phone conversation with you, this is not an official evaluation of your program. The participants will only be practicing using the Rating Scale.

In thanks to you for opening your home to us we will be glad to provide you with a collection of children's books. I will be contacting you in about two weeks to answer any questions you may have and to get directions to your home.

Once again, thank you for opening your home to us. We appreciate your hospitality.

Sincerely,

Barbara J. Boone

To Whom It May Concern:

Mrs. Susan Kline has worked with this agency for a period of approximately a year-and-a-half. During this time she has been licensed to care for up to six children, total.

She has taken excellent care of the children placed in her charge. I would not hesitate to recommend Mrs. Kline for care of other children. I feel conscientious, loving care would be provided any child placed with her.

If you need any further assistance, please do not hesitate to contact me.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have known Susan Kline since late autumn of 1993. She was referred to me through the Child Care Council of Resource and Referral, and came with impeccable references of recommendation from California to the state of Kentucky. She has provided daycare for my two sons, ages 5 and 8 years, for all of their short lives. She has always maintained a professional atmosphere, while also being the most kind and attentive caregiver that anyone could ever hope for in a child care provider.

Susan is reliable and dependable causing very little disruption in my life as a working mom. Yet she has maintained an equal balance with her own family obligations. She has juggled her children's doctor appointments and handled stress admirably unruffled. Her oldest daughter, Amy had appointment after appointment with Shriners Hospital; and yet all this was handled with the utmost aplomb and dedication. She has conscientiously kept her classes on childcare up to par, fitting them within her busy schedule.

The qualities I have observed in her as a mother to her own two daughters, have gone a long way in reassuring me that my two sons are in the most capable hands possible. Over these last few years, I have come into contact with several different families that had two or more children under her care. If I may so speak - all of us have been very pleased with Susan's interaction with our children. She is a very dear and trusted person in our daily lives. We trust her with life's most precious of gifts ... our own children.

Sincerely,
Marjorie Lee Oliver
