I first moved to Richland in 1982, to work at Washington Public Power Supply System Unit 2. There were a couple jobs that took me to Illinois and Pennsylvania for short stints, but most of my career has been here at the Hanford Site. I am currently the Engineering Manager at the Effluent Treatment Facility, working for Washington River Protection Solutions.

I was born and raised in Honesdale, Pennsylvania, a small town in the Pocono Mountains. After graduating from Lafayette College with a degree in Civil Engineering, my first assignment sent me out to the west coast. I met my wife, Rose, here in Richland, and we've been married for 33 years. We lived in North Richland up until May of 2017, when we moved to our new home in the Heights.

My hobbies include golf, reading, working in my garden, Gonzaga basketball, and most importantly, watching my 15 month old grandson grow. We are lucky to have lots of friends and family in the area, and we enjoy our family time together.

I am currently serving as your Vice-President on the HOA Board for the Heights at Meadow Springs.
