Our Programme . . .

The Terrier executive, along with the coach and players, hope that you all will enjoy the stories, pictures and information which you will read throughout our new program.

The program is being sold at all home games of the Terriers by theLion-L's, who will use their share of the sale of the books to further the projects they carry out in our community. So when we buy a program we are not only supporting our hockey club but also aiding the Lion-L's in their wonderful community work.

This is our first year in Junior "A" hockey and this is the first year we have ever produced a junior program. We want to sincerely thank our advertisers who made this book possible, and solicit your support by having each one of us buy a program. Also we would like to thank Ken Mayhew and his staff at The Enterprise for their wonderful co-operation in the production of this book.

To really enjoy and follow your "TERRIERS" when they play, we say . . .

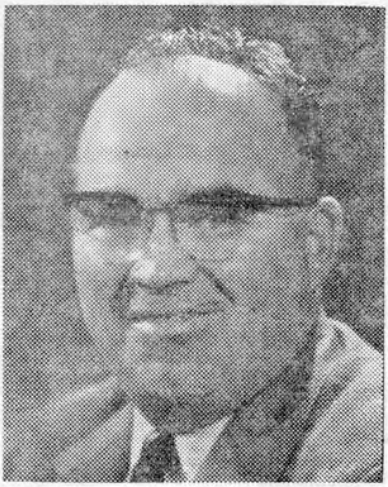
A Message from The President



This year we are entering into Junior "A" hockey and I sincerely hope and feel that it is a step in the right direction. Junior "A" hockey has always been recognized as Canada's fastest and most entertaining sport.

Our executive has gone all out in lining up a team you will be proud to support. Our manage-coach, Bill "Red" Hunter, is very colorful as well as being a top coach.

The lack of artificial ice in Yorkton has been and is our big problem. Our efforts are to be the promotion of artificial ice in Yorkton this coming year.

We also want to thank the supporters of our Year Book. Also to ask for rural support,for without district fan support any type of hockey would be a failure. We all realize that the success or failure of any hockey club rests with the public and their support. We know you will make the "Terriers" a success.

E. C. LANG,
President.

Our Manager-Coach — BILL HUNTER

Bill Hunter, manager-coach of the Yorkton Junior Terriers is the best known western Canada hockey personality of the postwar decade. While he has seen service in no less than five hockey centres on the prairies since he ceased flipping aircraft for John Bull on loan from the R.C.A.F., hockey has ben his vocation.

"Wild Bill" or "Red," as he is affectionately known, comes by his interest in hockey honestly. His dad, the popular Jack Hunter, district postal inspector, Saskatoon, guided the destinies of the best Saskatoon Quaker teams of all time in the days prior to World War II. Jack now lives at the coast.

Having chucked his flying toggery, Bill Hunter had a fling at football playing for Winnipeg Blue Bombers, then turned his attention to hockey. He chose Regina as the most likely centre in which to promote a senior club and he mustered a team of his own which he placed in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League and operated for two seasons, 1946-47 and 1947-48.

He then accepted an offer from the Saskatoon Quakers to manage and coach their club for the 1948-49 season, but this venture turned out disastrously with Saskatoon on the bottom of the heap. He was re-engaged next season as manager and went out and scoured the country for best senior material.

During the 1950-51 season Bill managed the new Melville Arena and a smart job he did of it as well as keeping hockey interest at fever heat between Yorkton and Melville especially.

The next two seasons Bill spent in North Battleford, where he built up a fine Beaver machine that included both intermediate and minor hockey teams.

Then in the summer of 1953 he accepted a deal to go to Medicine Hat where he was owner and coach of the Tigers. Here he made a real name for himself and last season came within the narrowest margin of bumping off the Regina Pats, who went through to the Memorial Cup finals.

Bill is a strong disciplinarian but his kids love him. He shouts and roars throughout a game and drives his players for all they can give. He is ever a keen competitor and I don't know if you could find a better man than Bill Hunter when it comes to a hockey argument, whether you want the ice cold facts, which Bill possesses a wealth of, or whether you want just plain talk—he also has a wealth of that. Anyway, Bill is in Yorkton now and leave it to him to provide the right spirit to keep the hockey pot boiling all winter long.

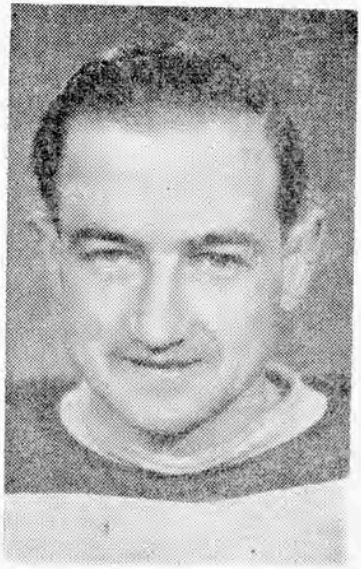
We Salute Our Minor Hockey!



BILL PRYSTAI
President

This year Bill Prystai heads the Minor Hockey Association and we feel that the wonderful work being carried out by this organization amongst the youth of Yorkton and district is more than deserving of this little recognition.

A very important part of any city or community is the facilities and work under supervision that is carried out amongst the younger set. Yorkton is fortunate to have such a fine minor hockey set-up headed by a group of hard-working citizens who give unselfishly of their time and money to the promotion of good hockey with proper facilities, equipment and coaching.

The Junior Terriers were pleased to affiliate with the Minor Hockey Association and are offering their services in any way possible and have set aside a definite grant of equipment to the minor organization. It is the hope of all that Yorkton will be able to produce its own hockey players and be of assistance to the youth of our community so that they will be better prepared to step out of youth into manhood.

Once again we say to Bill Prystai and his hard-working group: congratulations, and keep up the good work.

Kenny says...

The season 1955-56 ushers in a new age of hockey for Yorkton. Youth has triumphed once again as is right in a young man's country. This season junior hockey, acknowledged as the fastest, cleanest and best variety of all, will be the major attraction in the fine new rink from November until March.

Congratulations to Elmer Lang and his executive for performing a fete we know dashed well Houdini could never have accomplished. To go to a stable padlocked and bare the first of September, fill it with fillies in only a month and have a winner cross the wire on October 23 in the second heat is magic at its best.

Rinks in which seniors are performing and even where minor pros are cavorting about are not drawing flies this season, but wherever junior hockey is played the fans attend because here they see a never-say-die effort on the part of every he-blooded boy propelling a puck.

While it has been said it is too much to expect a totally new club to get far in its first year of play, anyone connected with the Terriers avow they will be the exception.

The modern fans have been shown the best and therefore the league heads realize that if the best is obtainable, the public won't go for anything of slightly inferior quality. The standard set by those ancient old rivals, Yorkton and Melville, has been the biggest aid to hockey in the province. So, for hockey's sake, I hope this constant undeclared war between Yorkton and Melville never ceases and above all I hope fans will patronize our boys here and boys of other teams elsewhere so hockey—our great national game—will never die.
