Dywane A. Hall

Dywane has well over three decades of successful experience in portfolio and investment management. He serves both business and individual clients. He is a Registered Financial Consultant (RFC) a Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor, (CRPC) and an Accredited Investment Fiduciary (AIF). Dywane serves an active client base of government and corporate professionals and retirees in the DC metropolitan area and is licensed with clients in over 18 states.

He is well known for his focus on retirement planning and is referred to by many as the "The Retirement Resource." Dywane has frequently appeared on local television news providing market analysis and financial commentary. He has been featured in many publications including the Washington Post, Washington Times, The Wall Street Journal, Money Magazine and on the cover of Research Magazine, a leading publication for financial professionals. Dywane is one of 30 investment advisors nationwide that sits on the Insured Retirement Advisory Board and is a founding member of The African American Advisors Association. A nonprofit organization committed to increasing the financial acumen of members of our community. The Association of African American Advisors envisions a future where the Black community is financially savvy with expert guidance to sustain generational wealth. He has been recognized as a Five Star Wealth Manager multiple times by the 5 Star Professional group.

As a financial advisor he possesses the rare ability to translate complex financial concepts into everyday language. He conducts continuing education classes as a presenter for the Virginia Society of CPA's sharing retirement-industry topics to accounting professionals and uses this same gift in addressing thousands of university students each year on establishing good financial management skills. Dywane earned his undergraduate degree from Hampton Institute and a graduate degree from Pepperdine University. As a former Army Officer and as a current financial advisor, Dywane helps people plan for some of the most important steps of their lives. Dywane has been the Registered Principal for LPL Financial since 1985. Dywane Hall & Company was formed in 1986.
