

FALL STUDY:
WRITINGS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

Did you know that besides the gospels and the letters of Paul, there are a number of other writings in the New Testament? Some are letters and some are writings of wisdom, warning and counsel. All have to do with how to live as persons and within communities in precarious, threatening and uncertain times. How do we cultivate resilience and strength without losing our gentleness and compassion? How do we honour our human vulnerability without capitulating to fear and mistrust but opening our heart to deeper kinds of loving of ourselves and discerning love of others? How do we address injustices within society without hardening our hearts? How do we become genuine servants of the risen Christ in body, mind and spirit in the midst of personal suffering?

Join us for an 8-week study and discussion series on the writings of the New Testament: specifically: James, Peter, John and Jude, beginning Wednesday, September 24, 7:30pm. This will be a hybrid gathering (in-person and online). Notes to guide your reading and reflection will be provided ahead of each session. Any questions? Contact Dr. Harris at: hathan1964@hotmail.com.
