Note:

- Be sure to label your child’s supplies or to mark them in a specific way. Many items look the same in in a classroom where children share table and floor spaces. Being able to identify their own belongings helps our children learn responsibility, being able to identify another’s belongings helps our children learn respect.
- Fancy supplies are wonderful for home and much too distracting at school. As plain as possible is always appreciated by your child’s teacher. Colorful is fine, pop socket pencil cases are not Please be prepared to replenish your child’s supplies during the year as they are used up.
