

Jenny Barbee

Jenny has worked in Vet-Med since 2005, with most of those years as a Veterinary Practice Administrator-Manager. She has always had a passion and interest in all thing's animals. In 2000, she started her own mobile pet care business, in which she owned and operated for five years and she was also a co-founder of Oregon Pet Sitters Association. The first association in Oregon to set standards for in home pet care and also required all members to be insured and bonded.

She shares her life with many animals; 2 horses, 5 dogs, and a cat. She has a special passion for raising German Shepherds with an acute focus on good health, great temperaments and classic structure.

She started volunteering for the PNW Scent Work Club as a Stewart in 2023, after taking classes from PNW Scent Work Club president, Judi James. Jenny was immediately hooked! Scent work has become a big part of her life, as it is a great outlet for her pack of German Shepherds to work their noses and minds. It wasn't as much about competition at first, as it was just a fun game for her and her dogs, but after a year of volunteering, it looked like fun! She started competing in canine scent work with her German Shepherd, Ghost in 2024. Jenny has enjoyed earning some titles and ribbons with Ghost, but what is the best part is that her dog loves it too. She is enthusiastic about the sport and will be introducing her other dogs to the sport as well.

In 2026, she was elected to be PNW Scent Work Club Secretary replacing the very hard to fill shoes of Club Founder and Secretary, Phyllis Dinsmore. Jenny brings to our team, over 20 years of office administration experience, her passion for dog sports and her support of the continued success of the club.
