Re: Keep Up The Good Work!!!

Dear Anny:

Like any worthwhile relationship, a customer-vendor affiliation brings together ideas and common goals. Striking the delicate balance between likes and dislikes can sometimes be difficult. Two traits I hold in high regard personally and professionally are integrity and respect.

In my profession, I see many operations unlike Shine Electrical Engineering that are full of discontent and disregard for client's goals. Seeing your staff truly teaming efforts in a pleasant manner to achieve our desired goals is always a welcomed experience. This says much about the leadership abilities of your management team.

Consequently, I am compelled to tell you that working with you and Rolando is always an absolute pleasure. Everything is upbeat and upfront. Business is tough, but not with people like you. I congratulate you on your team's knowledge, professionalism and in creating an enthusiastic and talented organization.

Our experience during the last six plus years confirms that win-win situations occur when people desire positive results. Thank you for being so flexible and understanding throughout the years and the many projects. You and your staff have turned naysayers into believers time after time, and the end result is always spectacular.

Sincerely yours,

Alberto Cohen, CAM, CMCA, AMS
President
