FARM OF THE MONTH

Dwelley Family Farms is a family owned 4th generation farm, growing in Brentwood since 1921. Dwelley Family Farms has taken great pride in offering a large variety of premium fruits and vegetables to its local and commercial customers. Brentwood's unique microclimate of hot valley days combined with the cool coastal evening breezes creates a perfect condition for growing produce. Best known for their sweet corn and green bean varieties, Dwelley Family Farms' conventional and organic produce can be found at our local fruit stand or at retail outlets across the Bay Area. It is said that for the entire Dwelley family, farming has never been just an occupation. It is a way of life!

JOKES

What is a mythical veggie called? A uni-corn

What do you tell maize after it graduates? Corn-gratulations
