Meet Cocoa Bean!

This sweet boy is learning what it means to be loved, and he's blossoming more every day! Cocoa Bean may start off a little shy, but with patience and kindness, you'll quickly see the gentle, goofy pup underneath. He's been getting braver with every passing day, especially when it comes to playing with other dogs!

He's still figuring out house training and can have the occasional accident, but he's catching on quickly and doing great with consistency, praise, and routine. The crate isn't his favorite place just yet, but this brave boy is making steady progress!

He's friendly with everyone - men, women, kids, and other animals - but he can be a little nervous at first and would thrive with a family who understands he's still learning how to feel safe in this big world!

His ideal match? Someone patient, outdoorsy, and ready to help him continue building confidence. If you're looking for a loyal, loving pup with a heart full of potential, Cocoa Bean is your guy!
