

MEET JED

Husky/retriever type mix

Jed came to us from Saskatchewan where he was initially living as a stray with his siblings Joey, Phoebe and Timmy. He's been truly thriving in his foster care and is ready for a home to call his own:

- Enjoys other dogs
- Respectful of cats
- Deeply loves his people

Sex: Male

Age: approx. 11 months

From his foster:

He loves to snuggle on the couch with the family and benefits from having another dog around—he often looks to them for reassurance but is always curious and eager to explore on his own.

He's great with our family cat, respectful and gentle when she sets a boundary. While he was a little timid around a young child during pickup, we think with time and confidence, he'll do great with kids. He seems to miss his brother and sometimes cries at bedtime, but settles in well in his kennel or on a dog bed.

Jed bonds deeply with people and would thrive with another dog, but could also do well as a solo companion. He loves treats, has great manners, and is incredibly gentle. He feels like an old soul—calm and wise—until he's outside playing like the fun-loving pup he is.
