This sweet girl may be small, but she's already made quite an impression. Everyone who has met Waffles so far has fallen in love with her!

Waffles is a happy puppy who enjoys attention, playtime, and being part of whatever is going on around her. She's curious about the world, quick to make new friends, and always ready for a cuddle when things slow down.

As she wraps up quarantine and starts exploring more of what life has to offer, we're excited to watch her personality continue to blossom. Like any young puppy, she'll be looking for a family committed to helping her learn, grow, and navigate all the adventures that come with puppyhood.

If you're looking for a sweet companion to add to your family, Waffles would love to meet you!
