

LONDON

Unknown mix

(likely to be medium sized when grown)

- Playful girl who loves people
- Smart and eager to learn
- Health-checked, vaccinated, dewormed, microchipped

Sex: Female

Age: 7 weeks

approx. as of July 18, 2026

Meet London!

London will be ready to head to her adoption trial in just under a week, but applications are officially open now!

From her foster:

“At just 7 weeks old and after only 3 days together, London has picked things up incredibly quickly. There have been zero accidents in the house after day one. She has learned to let herself out using the dog door to do her business or even just to play in the yard with her toys. She is getting the hang of walking on a leash and can even sit and shake a paw for treats. She is a very fast learner.

Everyone who has met London over the past few days has fallen in love with her. She LOVES people and, even though she is not meeting any new dogs yet, she is very eager to when she hears a bark or sees one from across the street. She will make such a wonderful companion.

London is happy playing by herself and even happier when someone wants to play with her, which makes me think she would love a playful dog sibling. She is energetic and would likely thrive with an active family.”

London has just a few more days before she’s ready to head to her adoption trial, and we’d love nothing more than to see her leave quarantine and head straight into the arms of her forever family!

