

YOKO

Sex: Female
2 years old (best guess)

Bully / Lab / German Shepherd mix
(approx. 70 lbs)

- Calm, respectful and incredibly gentle
- Dog, cat and child friendly
- Loyal and so loving
- Health-checked, vaccinated, dewormed, microchipped

After raising her babies with so much love, it's Yoko's time to find the forever home she deserves.

Yoko came to us just one week before delivering her Y litter and cared for them with incredible patience and devotion. Watching the way she loved and protected her puppies showed us exactly who she is at her core.

She is calm and beautifully well mannered in the home. She never begs for food, settles easily, and is perfectly content to nap quietly while you work or relax. She has never had an accident inside and keeps her space very clean. She still prefers her trusted person to step outside with her for potty just until she feels safe. Yoko carries such a peaceful, steady presence that everyone around her instantly feels.

She's wonderful with other dogs, respectful of cats, and incredibly patient with children. Noise and busy movement don't faze her, she simply stays close and trusts her person.

More than anything, Yoko loves deeply. She bonds hard, looks to you for reassurance, and just wants to be near her people. She's ready for a home where that love will be returned every single day.

Yoko is the kind of dog who leaves a mark. She's melted every heart she's met and means a lot to all of us. She is truly special, and whoever gives her a forever home isn't just adopting a dog, they're gaining an incredible soul.