JAM

Sex: Female
Age: 13 weeks
approx. as of Nov 1, 2026

Unknown mix
(likely to be medium-large when grown)

- Adores people and is very snuggly
- Making great progress with kennel and potty training
- Loves playing and exploring
- Health-checked, vaccinated, dewormed & microchipped

If you're looking to add a little excitement to your daily routine, Jam has officially submitted her application for the job!

Affectionately known as "Jam Jam" in her foster home, this happy little pup is full of life! Her foster family says she bounces around like a bunny and brings plenty of entertainment wherever she goes.

Jam has been making wonderful progress with her puppy routines. She's working on daytime kennel training and has been doing great overnight, letting her foster family know when she needs a bathroom break. She's even figured out the morning breakfast routine and patiently waits by the kitchen table for her meal!

She's also recently discovered the wonderful world of toys and is getting more playful by the day. Like any curious puppy, she's still learning what's appropriate to chew, but she's off to a great start!

Jam is ready to clock in for her next big adventure... finding a family of her very own! Apply to adopt this adorable little Xerox pup today!