

STAR

Sex: Female

Age: 4 years

(approx. as of March 22nd, 2026)

Lab mix (best guess)

- Incredibly sweet, gentle girl who bonds closely with her person
- Good with dogs, cats, horses & chickens
- Loves her walks but equally happy lounging in a sunny spot
- Health-checked, vaccinated, dewormed, microchipped, spayed

Many of you will recognize Star, who has been in our care since December

Since then, she's undergone the first of two ACL surgeries needed for her to live fully pain-free. She's healed well and is feeling good, and now we're looking ahead to the next step. After a lot of thought, we feel it's best for Star to find her forever home now so she can settle in and build that connection with her people while she finishes her recovery!

Her adopters will need to be prepared for a second ACL surgery, including attending vet appointments and supporting her through recovery. Our team will be there to support along every step of the way, but it's important her future home understands that commitment

Star is a very special dog to have around! She's calm, intuitive, and just wants to be near her people. She'll quietly follow you from room to room, settle in beside you, and be part of whatever you're doing. She has a soft, steady presence that makes her easy to love.

She can be a bit timid when meeting new people, especially men, but with a little time she settles in and becomes deeply loyal. She does well with other animals as well as older children!

Star is ready for a home that can offer her stability and patience while she finishes this chapter. In return, you're getting a truly devoted companion who will fit seamlessly into your life and provide you with endless love! If you are someone who understands that some of the strongest bonds are formed while walking through healing together, Star is ready to find her forever!
