A company official statement today was released by the chairman and CEO of Canada Business Holdings confirming that the company plans to go ahead with the ultra-low sulphur fuel oil refinery in the Sultanate of Oman.

Moses Solemon stressed that the refinery plans are on time and going well. “We are proud of the level of business cooperation that the Omani authorities are showing. We are overwhelmed by the keen interest and effort levels on their side”.

Canada Business Holdings Inc. secured license to produce refined all products in the Special Economic Zone in Duqm in Oman on 30th of June 2020. The refinery capacity is 300,000 barrels per day.

The focus of the processing technology of the CBH Inc. refinery is the “bottom of the barrel” refining. CBH Inc was able to successfully integrate the Canadian technologies to produce high-quality fuel oil with near zero sulphur content and producing near zero nitrogen oxides. The green technology is one of a kind in the world of petroleum refining.

Mr. Solemon stated that “Although we are not a typical refining company by default, we have gathered the best world class team to make it happen. This refinery is a game changer in terms of business and in the end-product”.
