

Alexis LaNelle Hartman

Music Teacher and Opera Singer

Alexis LaNelle Hartman is a soprano as well as educator, she strives to help singers find their "true" voice. Her philosophy is that music should be accessible for all and her mission stands by this statement, "Music is vital to human development as it is an outlet for creativity and expression. No one looks the same and no one sounds the same." Her passion for teaching and music go far beyond the classroom. She has performed a variety of roles and recitals. She has been on stage and taking private voice lessons for over a decade! She has been the choir director for a church in Hartford since April of 2021 where she leads the adult choir, youth choir, and bell choir.
