You say contrarian like its a bad thing and I don't get it ... I had a professor that was tight with the marks unless you presented both your own and an alternative point of view. Is it that someone is a contrarian when they're consistent about it ? Is it their delivery ?

Your criticism of Olszewski/Malone is its own diatribe. In HER video, she does not appear to mention anti-vaxxing at all, unless I missed it.

If she's an anti-vaxxer, she'd be waiting for a vaccine TO BE AVAILABLE, and THEN advocating for NOT using it. Since there's no vaccine available now, including allusions to her anti-vaxxing past is, at this time, irrelevant and ...

Erin Marie Olszewski is a Nurse-turned-investigative journalist, who has spent the last few months on the frontlines of the coronavirus pandemic, on the inside in two radically different settings. Two hospitals. One private, the other public. One in Florida, the other in New York.

And not just any New York public hospital, but the "epicenter of the epicenter" itself, the infamous Elmhurst in Donald Trump's Queens. As a result of these diametrically opposed experiences, she has the ultimate "perspective on the pandemic". She has been where there have been the most deaths attributed to Covid-19 and where there have been the least.

Erin enlisted in the Army when she was 17. She deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2003. Part of her duties involved overseeing aid disbursement and improvements to hospital facilities. While in country she received the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service, and was wounded in combat. Erin eventually retired as a sergeant, and became a civilian nurse in 2012.

Erin is a medical freedom and informed consent advocate. She co-founded the Florida Freedom Alliance but no longer has any connection with the organization.

She didn't blow any nurses out of the water.....just the codes called by the unsupervised doctors-in-training that misdiagnosed, and rushed people that weren't that sick onto ventilators based on edicts from anonymous supervisors! Ethics!

The "other" staff at elmhurst isn't going to speak on behalf of her. They'll lose their licenses and jobs. And they have families to feed. So if you ask anyone there they're not going to talk.

Remember my friend Erin the Nurse who blew the whistle on the genocide happening ON PURPOSE in the NYC hospitals?
My interview of her below is AMAZING. Look who she ran into in a Florida restaurant last night. He knew her story and that's good news.

Erin Marie Olszewski is a fraud well known in some circles for using lies to gain personal fame and cash. The lies in her "documentary" have placed the lives of Elmhurst hospital staff at risk - they are getting death threats from her deranged and gullible fans. It is also possible that - relying on sources I am bloody not discussing - if anyone at Elmhurst killed patients it was Erin. Not confirmed, but as self centered as she is combined with her low skills and knowledge it is plausible. And with Infowars now a source of "news" for Fox that is a sign that Fauxnews needs to be shut the hell down.

Comment: Facebook post made by Night into Light, discussing how the subject spent time on the frontlines of the Covid 19 pandemic at the Elmhurst Hospital in New York.

June 11, 2020 · 🌐

Erin Marie Olszewski is a Nurse-turned-investigative journalist, who has spent the last few months on the frontlines of the coronavirus pandemic, on the inside in two radically different settings. Two hospitals. One private, the other public. One in Florida, the other in New York.

And not just any New York public hospital, but the "epicenter of the epicenter" itself, the infamous Elmhurst in Donald Trump's Queens. As a result of these diametrically opposed experiences, she has the ultimate "perspective on the pandemic". She has been where there have been the most deaths attributed to Covid-19 and where there have been the least.

Erin enlisted in the Army when she was 17. She deployed in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom in 2003. Part of her duties involved overseeing aid disbursement and improvements to hospital facilities. While in country she received the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service, and was wounded in combat. Erin eventually retired as a sergeant, and became a civilian nurse in 2012.

Erin is a medical freedom and informed consent advocate. She co-founded the Florida Freedom Alliance but no longer has any connection with the organization.

Summary of What Really Happened At Elmhurst Hospital -- Clinicians and Staff Respond to Latest Conspiracy "Expose" Video

So I had some time this morning and saw that ZdoggMD posted another video responding to the response of yet another COVID-19 expose/conspiracy controversy that seems to occur on a weekly basis now. Oh boy!

This spat in particular seems focused on a traveling nurse with a dubious reputation who worked at Elmhurst Hospital in New York, where she illegally recorded physicians, nurses, and admin in order to "tell the real story." She also violates HIPAA so I can only imagine she's about to get a rude wake up call soon. Anyway, ZdoggMD did a "debunking" vlog about it, which apparently necessitated a follow up.

Personally, I like ZdoggMD but like most things in the world, he can be hit or miss. Given I had some time on my hands, I thought I'd summarize the various videos in case this becomes a widespread controversy like that "Plandemic" nonsense.

Video 1: "Perspectives on the Pandemic"

I skipped through this as it's like 70min long. Traveling Nurse Erin Marie Olszewski goes to Elmhurst under the guise of helping with the COVID-19 pandemic, but seems to have a back up agenda in that she wants to "investigate what's really going on" at the Epicenter of the NY COVID-19 epicenter. It mostly consists of recordings she made of attendings, nurses, support staff, and administrators without their consent. One can occasionally see PHI, either when she's reacting melodramatically to a conversation or when she shows actual patient records on her janky, cracked-glass iPhone. She also has a hidden camera showing her access Epic and attending to patients. I clearly am not hiding my opinion on this, because as a healthcare professional what she is doing is wildly unethical. But to the layperson, the main target of this video, she talks in fancy medical terms and it comes off as if she's doing vital Gonzo journalism.

Video 2: Zdogg's "Undercover Epicenter Nurse, Debunked"

This is a 15min video of ZdoggMD doing one of his typical "doctor debunks crazy trend" video. Aside from pointing out the above mentioned ethical violations Olszewski makes, Zdogg also mentions the fact that Olszewski is an "anti-vax" leader in Florida. A quick Google "literature" search shows she's a "Nurse-turned-investigative journalist" and apparently also a COVID-19 conspiracist that denies COVID-19 is a real issue. There is also a Change.org petition to hold her accountable for her recent actions, started by some person called Carrie Bearshaw. Throughout Zdogg's debunking video he never shows Olszewski's video, but in addition to the various violations she is guilty of he highlights how she throws her coworkers and supervising attendings under the bus.

Video 3 and Blog Post "What really happened at Elmhurst Hospital"

And this is the video I initially watched, which is 4min long and includes ZdoggMD stating that after he posted his initial "debunking" video, various Elmhurst staff came forward to tell him they've received hate mail and death threats due to Olszewski's paranoid conspiracies. Aside from the video, there's also extensive responses from nurses, CC/Pulm fellows, and attendings and you should definitely give those a look. Highlights include:

-- Furthermore, I respect that she had concerns about patient care and applaud a system of accountability that would give her a voice to ask questions. THE PROBLEM IS SHE NEVER ASKED.... SHE JUST ASSUMED... This nurse may think she is helping in her own delusional way but effectively she is type-casting an entire community and hospital as inept, inadequate, and ignorant. I wonder if she would have made this video if she was working in the established hospitals across in Manhattan? I've worked shifts I'm both ICU's during this crisis. While Elmhurst is a public hospital and as a result may lack some resources, I can tell you the medical decision making was consistent in both and outcomes were similar.

-- Truth-Erin Marie is NOT a critical care nurse-she claims she is an ED nurse. She was taught how to inline suction, how to titrate drips, and how to open and insert the chamber into the epi syringe during a code(I'm pretty sure that must have been used in her ED career at some point)

-- What Erin doesn't share is she was moved from night shift to dayshift on her own accord(it seems once she got what she wanted from her recordings) and shortly after terminated by Elmhurst and Krucial staffing for accusing a physician of murdering her patient.

-- Anyway, I saw that Erin person around a few times but she was never the nurse on any of my patients. It turned out she was making inflammatory posts on social media which people picked up on. She was an agency nurse with Krucial and was working nights. Apparently no one saw her social media posts, which were really inflammatory. She got busted when she had remained logged in for 12 hours outside of her assigned shift time gathering information. She got moved to days and then her social media posts were found by someone (her staffing agency?) and they pulled her from the "A4 unit" (normally a step down floor that was converted into an ICU) and sent her to the ER to work. Very shortly after that same day she was kicked out. The part in italics was told to me by a nurse from her agency... Here is what really happened on the morning she was thrown out...

-- I am a MICU/CCU nurse at Elmhurst Hospital. The way you spoke up for us literally made tears come out of my eyes. We were once called heroes now we are murderers. We are getting death threats and are told not to wear our scrubs for safety when coming to work.

-- I'm one of the nurses at Elmhurst who got to work with Erin Marie Olszewski in the ICUs when she was still there. This controversy has caused myself and my coworkers frustration, anxiety and just sadness at how we are being portrayed as villains in the media by a woman who clearly doesn't even know half of what she's talking about. Who came to Elmhurst with an agenda...

There, newest COVID-19 youtube conspiracy video controversy summarized by someone with too much time.

I am not a Doctor but I have been a patient many times, Perhaps it is time to evaluate alternative options, we need to try other antiviral, antifungal or autoimmune alternatives, the same ones for the effects of 4G, 5G electromagnetic radiation, radio waves, the presence of dust or chemicals in the air. Help patients by providing large amounts of oxygen in treatment rooms, attack symptoms with high doses of antiallergens, attack physical & mental causes of stress and high blood pressure that generate high flow in the lungs, and apply high doses of vitamins. High demand has not allowed different options to be applied and the lack of alternatives in medical procedures will be a cause of the rates by lack of action.

It doesn't make sense to throw a random assortment of environmental descriptions together in a post, along with a random assortment of treatments and expect to arrive at a coherent treatment plan. As someone who has environmental and other allergies, I know those allergies affect my health in a number of ways, but I would never expect treatment for those automatically when trying to deal with unrelated issues.

Tulsa Health and Freedom Conference – April 2021

Calvin Hobbes April 19, 2021 3:05 am

My recap of the conference speakers, topics, resources and calls to action.

The Health and Freedom conference this weekend in Tulsa featured an all-star lineup hosted by Clay Clark, ThriveTime show founder. It was a spiritual, intellectual and emotional conference focusing on the major issues that have upended the world, the United States, public health and individual liberties over the last 16 months. It provided attendees a chance to hear the unfiltered views of the people on the front lines who lived (and are still living) through the tumult of the Covid-19 lockdowns, mask mandates, experimental RNA treatments, riots, election fraud, propaganda, censorship, illegal immigration and a Marxist coup. I wanted to share my notes recapping the speakers and topics, along with the resources they provided and any calls to action they made. I apologize for the ones I missed, but I didn't attend ALL of the sessions. There were just way too many, and a lot of interesting people to connect with. A big shout out to Clay Clark for organizing and executing this thing in just 45 days. Just goes to show you that DJ-ing, Selling and Entrepreneurship are better superpowers than flying, super-strength and being bulletproof any day. And another shout out to the good people at Rhema Bible College who were brave enough to host an event of this size with this set of high profile speakers. Amazing! You will find the conference videos on Rumble at the following link: <https://rumble.com/Thrivetimeshow>.

Real America - Dan W/ Erin Marie Olszewski

“In our civility, let each of us make a choice. Whether consciously, to remain a servant of falsehood—or, of course, it is not out of malice, but to feed one’s family, that one raises his children in the spirit of lies—or to shrug off the lies and become an honest man worthy of respect both by one’s children and contemporaries.”

- A. Solzhenitsyn

“Complaining about the existence of conspiracy theories is power-serving behavior. Instead, complain about the existence of government, corporate and financial secrecy which causes people to form speculative theories about what the powerful are up to behind that veil of opacity.”

“They concentrate all the power in the tiny little elite circles, then say ‘You don’t get to know what we’re doing with all our power over here. Not only that, but you don’t even get to talk to each other about what we might be doing, even though it could directly affect you.’”

“It’s fine to discuss and debate the validity of individual theories—I do it all the time—but to complain about the fact that people form theories about possible conspiracies when we know for a fact that powerful people conspire is just infantile.”

“And wouldn’t they -- if they could -- grab hold of anyone who tried to set them free and take them up there and kill him?”

“The real community of man, in the midst of all the self-contradictory simulacra of community, is the community of those who seek the truth. This, according to Plato, is the only real friendship, the only real common good. It is here that the contact people so desperately seek is to be found.”

Erin Olszewski has a background in Army Special Operations Civil Affairs, having served in many hospitals, orphanages and in schools in many countries overseas and she has been a nurse for about ten years.

When the “COVID emergency” struck, she took the opportunity to serve in the “frontlines” of the “war zone” at a New York City hospital in Elmhurst, Queens, in what was called the “epicenter of the epicenter”.

What she found was other nurses like her, getting paid $10,000 per week (with FEMA funds) to sit around and do nothing for weeks on end.

She says another thing she noticed was that New York Governor Cuomo had banned the protocol of hydroxychloroquine and zinc and that liability had been removed from the hospitals and there was financial incentive to admit patients.

She says, “$13,000 to admit a patient, $39,000 to put them on a vent [ventilator], some nursing homes and some of the hospitals; $10,000 per death.

“They banned family members, there’s no liability, so it became the perfect storm, an assembly line to a body bag.”

The reporter interjects, “That sounds like a death camp,” to which she quickly replies, “Yes.”

She also notes, “The Comfort ship was available for patients that didn’t have COVID. They bypassed it...that got bypassed and instead, they shoved every single patient into...these hospitals, because there was financial incentive to do so.

-Socrates

“The real community of man, in the midst of all the self-contradictory simulacra of community, is the community of those who seek the truth. This, according to Plato, is the only real friendship, the only real common good. It is here that the contact people so desperately seek is to be found.”

- People who repeatedly tested negative for Covid were being described as "Covid confirmed."
- Many people were coming in with anxiety, which was causing the difficulty in breathing... they would inevitably be put on a ventilator.
- A lot of the patients were poor and on medicare or medical. Public hospitals like Elmhurst need the funding so they take them as patients, then tell them that they are going to die if they don't get put on a ventilator.
- ICU doctors are often not on the floors... instead things are being run by residents... and even a dentist one time. Residents are basically practicing invasive procedures that are not necessary.
- Most patients are black, spanish, and asians in their 40's and 50's and lower income, and on Medicare or Medicaid.
- About half tested as Covid positive, but, all patients are put together... in the same rooms... and no one seems to care about non-Covid people getting infected.
- Gives the example of someone who came in with a stroke, did not have Covid, then he got Covid in hospital and is now on a vent.
- HCW not wearing PPE properly and moving back and forth between Covid and non-Covid patients.
- Not using the rapid diagnostic test (45min) because it is too expensive. Instead they use a 5 day test. In the meantime, patients are admitted onto Covid floors. So if they didn't have it, they usually get it.
- There is a huge financial incentive to diagnose as Covid -- at least $29k per Covid patient from Medicare.
- Example of a healthy 37 year old -- with no DNR (do not resuscitate) was treated as a DNR. Families are not there to advocate for patients. Higher ups don't want to put any resources into someone they consider not likely to survive.
- Staff encourages people to sign off on using a ventilator by saying "we want to give you some help breathing with a tube." They get the ok, drug them up and put them on a ventilator. The ventilator itself kills people. It irritates the lungs and then they develop pneumonia.
- If an incoming patient was Covid negative, they would be classified as "Covid ruleout" and placed among Covid positive people until their test results came back. They would inevitably become Covid positive.
- This hospital's protocol is to skip low pressure Oxygen, which is what they need, and go right to high pressure air with ventilator, which does not help with the other inflammation in the lungs, which is what kills you.
- She observed a ZERO fatality rate in her hometown hospital, where they oxygen and other therapeutics. At Elmhurst, almost 100% fatality rate.
- Her hometown hospital used hydroxychloroquine, zinc, etc and had zero fatalities. Meanwhile, Cuomo banned it in NY.
- Hydroxychloroquine works well in the beginning stages of Covid. In later stages, high dose intravenous Vitamin C works, but doctors at Elmhurst would not even try it for some reason.

A single mom of three young children, Nurse Erin found herself furloughed in FLA when hospitals were empty, so she took a gig for $10k/WEEK (yes, you read that right) in the epicenter of the epicenter, Elmhurst Hospital in NYC. Immediately she began uncovering, later wearing a mic and a camera, that 90% of her fellow doctors and nurses saw the fraud, too, but were making too much money (triple or more their normal wages) to call out the insurance fraud, bad medicine, and violations of medical ethics that killed thousands and had nothing to do with a virus.

Erin Marie Olszewski, BSN, RN

Erin Marie Olszewski, BSN, RN, has spent her life fighting for the freedom of everyday Americans. As a young woman, she joined the US Army to fight overseas in Operation Iraqi Freedom. Returning home, she turned her focus, drive, and dedication to defending our most deeply held values on American soil. Erin has spent years fighting for medical freedom. As a registered nurse and a mom of a vaccine-injured child, she has seen firsthand the effects of forced treatment on infants, young children, and adults. In 2020, Erin volunteered for the front lines yet again as a traveling nurse assigned to New York’s Elmhurst hospital during the COVID-19 pandemic. What she found there horrified her and inspired a new focus to her advocacy. Erin’s forthcoming book, The Undercover Epicenter Nurse, will reveal how gross negligence, insurance fraud, medical malpractice, and good old-fashioned greed are killing everyday Americans at Elmhurst and beyond. Her new fight is a fight for a return to ethics, transparency, and respect for the truth—values sorely needed in the medical field today, and in our country at large. Everyday Americans are needed in that battle as well. Join her.

A Florida nurse-turned-undercover journalist who traveled to New York City to work at the hospital hardest-hit by the coronavirus pandemic says she witnessed negligent healthcare practices that very likely increased the COVID-19 death toll.

In an interview Saturday with Fox News, Erin Marie Olszewski, a registered nurse and U.S. Army veteran, said it was an "extremely common," "everyday experience" for healthcare workers at Elmhurst Hospital in Queens – the "epicenter of the epicenter" for coronavirus in the U.S. – to not properly isolate patients infected with the virus.

"And, there was really no reason for that," she said. "There were resources that were not being utilized. For instance, the Comfort ship, the Javits Center, and they had Samaritan's Purse. So, we had options that weren't utilized."

Olszewski was referring to the USNS Comfort, one of the Navy's two hospital ships, which President Donald Trump dispatched to New York City to take in non-coronavirus patients, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers-established field hospital at the Javits Center.

(Source: Fox News)

By the time the outbreak in New York City was subsiding and the Comfort was ordered to return to its homeport in Norfolk, Va. in late April, the ship's medical crew was, in fact, treating coronavirus patients – just not many, and, for that matter, not many patients, period. The ship only treated 182 total patients, 70 percent of whom were diagnosed with COVID-19 – out of a capacity of 1,000 beds.

Meanwhile, the Javits Center also remained largely empty, even after nursing home managers and eldercare center administrators pleaded with Gov. Andrew Cuomo (D) to allow them to send coronavirus-infected patients there rather than admit them to facilities filled with elderly patients far more susceptible to contracting the disease.

A Florida nurse turned investigative journalist who worked in New York City at the height of the COVID-19 pandemic reported Saturday that she had witnessed negligent practice firsthand in her hospital.

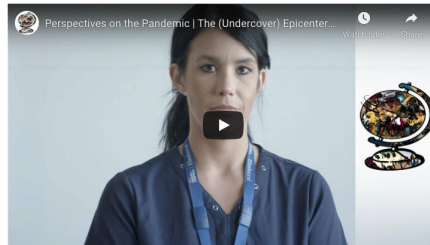

In an interview on "Fox & Friends Weekend" with host Jedediah Bila, Army veteran Erin Marie Olszewski explained it was an "extremely common," "everyday experience" for Queens' Elmhurst Hospital to not properly isolate coronavirus patients.

According to Olszewski, Elmhurst was also not making use of rapid COVID-19 testing.

"They were using the ones that were sent out which would be a five to 10-day turnaround," she explained. "In the meantime, these patients were put on the floors and they were intermingled with COVID positive and then COVID rule-out patients."

Although new coronavirus cases have gone down in recent months – with New York City finally entering Phase One of its reopening plan – the pandemic hit New York harder than any other state.

WATCH: Perspectives on the Pandemic #9

The “Undercover nurse” gives her first hand account of neglect, mismanagement and possible corruption in the treatment of “Covid patients” at Elmhurst Hospital

Erin Marie Olszewski is a Nurse-turned-investigative journalist, who has spent the last few months on the frontlines of the coronavirus pandemic, on the inside in two radically different settings. Two hospitals. One private, the other public. One in Florida, the other in New York.

And not just any New York public hospital, but the “epicenter of the epicenter” itself, the infamous Elmhurst in Donald Trump’s Queens. As a result of these diametrically opposed experiences, she has the ultimate “perspective on the pandemic”. She has been where there have been the most deaths attributed to Covid-19 and where there have been the least.

Cornavirus is real. COVID-19 is real. This is not a conspiracy theory.

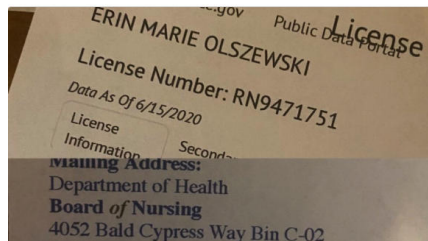

However, a Registered Nurse in the great state of Florida by the name of Erin Marie Olszewski, but for the sake of this post we shall refer to her as Scarin' Marie.

She is a well-known attention-seeking blogger who has gone to NYC under the rouse of working on the front lines. However, what she secretly has done has been secretly recording video inside of makeshift ICU's and spreading misinformation, accusing dedicated doctors and nurses of purposely murdering their patients in cold blood. What she hasn't told us, is that she has a long history of extremist views and has a very deep thirst for attention. In fact, she has only held Florida licensure as a Registered Nurse for only several years... but yet she seems to be a self-proclaimed expert on many subjects and has falsely accused healthcare providers with decades of clinical experience of participating in some sort of conspiracy theory.

Do not stand for this. This is a slap in the face the hundreds of healthcare workers who hav died and the tens of thousands of HCW's across the county who have selflessly sacrificed their safety to care for others. Demand an investigation now.

Comment: Online article on the State of the Nation website, discussing the subject and her affiliation to the Florida Freedom Alliance non-profit group.

Florida Freedom Alliance

Even before Sen. Book did her dirty deed with SB 64, another important step in this political black operation had been taken. That concerns the formation of the Freedom Florida Alliance \(FFA\).

First, take a close look at their website HERE and see if you can identify any strange appearances. From our seat, none of us within the Florida Anti-Vax Coalition have ever seen such an odd and completely lacking website presentation. It's almost as though the creators sought maximum non-disclosure of vital information for such a public mission and advocacy group.

Even the photos of each of the officers seem to betray a hidden agenda. Please look at each photo closely and attempt discern the intention behind each character. Some of our colleagues and investigative reporters have suggested that these women might be running a 'hooker service' or "honeypot operation" under the cover of health advocacy. Here are just four of the principals in the FFA leadership.

What's quite suspicious about the formation of the FFA is that they seemingly came out of nowhere. Actually, it would be more accurate to state that the originators came from Wisconsin.

That's because the prime mover behind the FFA is the current president Erin Marie Olszewski and her partner—MMAMV promoter Kevin Gene Tuttle. Both of these characters appear to have been involved in another operation that began in the state of Wisconsin. Hence, the $64,000 question here is why did Tuttle and Olszewski really transplant their last enterprise attempting to create a Wisconsin chapter of Children Health Defense to Florida ... all of a sudden?
