

Our Grand Republic

*What shall we say of our Grand Republic
And what would we say to our founding fathers
Is God exalted above the government
And devotion to our Creator before the state
Are all men treated equally
And is every man a voice to be heard
Do we defend the liberties that so many died for
And the sovereignty of every home
Our Grand Republic was not to be the great economy
Nor our beginnings forgotten truth
May we never lose sight of these beginnings
Or the vain trappings of deceit
For ours is the Grand Republic
Conceived in liberty and birthed in hope
Let us stand united against injustice
And fervent in our defence of freedom
Pray we never bend lest we break
And pray that we find strength in honor and righteousness
Truly, a house built upon a strong foundation shall not be swept away
And truly, our home is built upon words of stone*

Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock. And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.
