Urgent News

Psalter and Bible Verse for the week: Once again this year, the whole school will be on the same Bible memory text and psalter selection. Our theme for this year is "Divine Inquiries: Questions that Matter!" This year we hope to focus on questions from the Bible. Both questions that God asks as well as questions people asked. We hope to pause beside some of these questions and look for answers in God's word. For next week, the Bible memory is John 13:35 and the Psalter selection is 370:1,2. We would appreciate families supporting the theme within their homes. All students having the same memory work should make things less complicated for you as parents. Please recognize that teachers may assign additional memory work but will always have the school wide memory as a starting point. The Kindergarten class will be on their own program for the year.
