

Presentation Topics

Topic	Description
New York State Board of Nursing	Provides important information on professional misconduct, the disciplinary process, and the functions of the New York State Board of Nursing.
Are you that nurse?	Provides information on the pitfalls of practice/ social media.
How To Protect Your License? Document, document, document	Stresses the importance of documentation and the nurse's legal responsibilities.
Neonatal Assessment – The first 30 days	Appropriate assessment of premature babies can mean the difference between life and death. What to look for in our most precious patients with in the first month of life.
The Cost of Pressure Injuries – Financially and Legally	Helps nurses to understand the importance of assessing staging and documentation of pressure injuries and the legal implications.
You've Been Served: The art of the deposition	The law, the anatomy of the lawsuit and the nurse's role in the deposition process.
Pediatrics: Growth and Development	Understanding children's physical, psychosocial and sexual development from birth to adulthood.
Risk Management	Identifying, assessing and evaluating adverse events that may or can cause harm or injury to patients, staff and visitors in the healthcare setting.
Law Enforcement in Healthcare	How to interact with law enforcement within the healthcare setting. Warrants, subpoenas, and summons.
Legal, Ethical and Regulatory Issues in Healthcare	Understanding the nurse's legal and ethical responsibilities and the regulatory guidelines for safe patient care.

If you do not see your topic, please visit our website at www.dlgrantny.com and request your topic. Our consultants will review the information and let you know if we can provide a speaker.