Born in Rome in 1958 and an architect by training, Mario Peliti is a publisher and photographer.

He founded Peliti Associati in 1986, initially a graphic design studio, later a publishing house, and since 2000, a public relations agency as well.

He published books by celebrated photographers, amongst whom Gabriele Basilico, Letizia Battaglia, Gianni Berengo Gardin, Lisetta Carmi, Giorgia Fiorio, Paolo Gioli, Alain Fleischer, Josef Koudelka, Sergio Larrain, Helmut Newton, Paolo Pellegrin, Pentti Sammallahti, Klavdij Sluban, Danila Tkachenko and Franco Zecchin. From 1995 to 2002 he headed Galleria Minima Peliti Associati, a photography gallery located inside Palazzo Borghese in Rome.

He created the European Publishers Award for Photography (1994-2015), a competition run by seven publishing houses based in Italy, France, Germany, Great Britain, The Netherlands, Spain and Greece, aimed at the international promotion of emerging authors.

In 2006 he started, as an author, the Venice Urban Photo Project, dedicated to the systematic documentation of the lagoon city at the beginning of the new millennium.

From 2013 to 2023, together with Paola Stacchini Cavazza, he co-directed Galleria del Cembalo, once again devoted to photography and its relation to other forms of artistic expression, again inside Palazzo Borghese in Rome.

In 2021 Palazzo Grassi dedicated a large exhibition to the Venice Urban Photo Project, curated by Matthieu Humery, entitled HYPERVENEZIA.

Mario Peliti lives and works in Rome and Venice.
