Healing Vibes Collective Releases Cinematic Instrumental Single

“Walking in a Painting”

A slow-building musical journey blending expressive guitars, organic instrumentation, modern textures, and crystal singing bowls.

TAMPA, Florida — July 2026 — Healing Vibes Collective has released “Walking in a Painting,” a cinematic instrumental single now available on all major streaming platforms. The track was released on June 26, 2026 through Healing Vibes Music and distributed by Symphonic.

Composed and produced by Pam Green, the piece blends electric and acoustic guitars, piano, bass, live drums, synthesizer textures, atmospheric non-lyric vocalizations, and crystal singing bowls.

“Walking in a Painting” unfolds gradually. It begins with a spacious, peaceful groove and expands into a more dynamic bridge featuring strummed acoustic guitar, fuller drums, and a harmonic shift into C major.

The composition incorporates a 432 Hz A crystal singing bowl, with a 256 Hz C bowl appearing during the bridge. The official music video closes with a resonant strike of the red C bowl filmed on the beach.

Created for reflective walking, focused listening, creative work, and moments of calm, the single reflects Healing Vibes Collective’s approach: music first, with healing intention thoughtfully embedded in the sound.

Healing Vibes Collective is the cinematic instrumental project of Florida-based composer, producer, recording engineer, and multi-instrumentalist Pam Green. Drawing on more than four decades of experience in rock, jazz, and folk, Green creates melodic, emotionally transporting music that brings together movement, atmosphere, and restorative listening.
