

There are twenty-six letters in the English alphabet.

There are nine prime numbers between one and twenty-six: 2, 3, 5, 7, 11, 13, 17, 19, and 23.

The nine English letters corresponding to these nine primes, using alphabetic order, are: B, C, E, G, K, M, Q, S and W.

This is what they mean.
