DELTA GREEN: FILE 23051760 (TS/EYES ONLY)

SUBJECT: ANNE DE CHATILLION.

PLACE OF BIRTH: MARSEILLES FRANCE.

CURRENT RESIDENCE: UNKNOWN.

DOB: UNKNOWN.

KNOWN ALIASES/AKA: BELLE DE MORTE.

IDENTIFYING MARKS/FEATURES: FULL BACK AND ARMS TATTOO, SUBJECT AS YET UNKNOWN. CROSS OF LORRAINE, INSIDE LEFT WRIST.

KNOWN ASSOCIATES: Subject is known to be associated with the New Orleans criminal syndicates, At this time it is unknown what rank or status she possesses in said syndicates. Subject is also known to associate with former members of the French Foreign Legion as well as various European and Latin American persons of interest.

HISTORY: Despite the resources available to DELTA GREEN details of the subject's past before becoming involved with DG are still vague and mostly unconfirmed. As best that can be determined at this time, research indicates that the subject is a matrilineal descendant of a French noble family (see attached file, DG/TS DeCHATILLION) whose history indicates both preternatural ability and being found in locations where that ability has been used to stop preternatural incursions.

Subject is known to have been a member of the various New Orleans crime syndicates during her formative years and is speculated to have amassed a sizable personal fortune from those activities. It is also believed that this personal fortune enabled the subject to establish herself in Berlin as a major criminal figure prior to the outbreak of hostilities in the European theater. To date, investigation has not determined why the subject left the United States during this time. The leading theory is avoidance of prosecution for crimes committed in the US. However, a second theory based on the DeChatillion family's ability to find conflict zones has also found acceptance.

During the conflict in the European theater, the subject was known to have parlayed the Berlin syndicate into a significant and successful resistance force. It is believed that lessons learned as a criminal syndicate member helped to protect this force in both its resistance and profiteering operations.

Subject first came to DELTA GREEN attention via agents at Miskatonic University, when an attempt was made to find a buyer for recovered INNSMOUTH (TS/MYTHOS) material. Due to the subject's success in these combined resistance and recovery operations it was decided by DELTA GREEN command to continue to contract with the subject for various direct action tasking. This contact is current to present time via DELTA GREEN operatives at Miskatonic University.

Subject's post war activities have been decidedly more difficult to ascertain even for DELTA GREEN. Subject has demonstrated a SIGNIFICANT ability to to maintain operational and communications security for not only herself but what is believed to be a major organization under the subject's command. Given the subject's familiarity and ability to successfully deal with matters related to INNSMOUTH (TS/MYTHOS) it has been decided by DELTA GREEN command to NOT make further attempts to penetrate subject's operational security as to do so could be detrimental to both the operations of a valuable asset and DELTA GREEN.

Elsa June Merrimore Her real name isn't really Elsa June Merrimore- It's Elsa June Stewart. She took on the last name of Merrimore, to make it less easy for her family, mostly just her parents to be able to locate her - Having the notion that she was going to live a life completely independent from them, however she was not successful in this endeavor, as she did not have the means, nor the skill to be able to live independently. She needed financial help, among other things. Not to mention she's really only a teenager. She feels a little bad about telling tall tales, about her name, and her age to her new found friends & neighbors in the Mayfield community. She claims to be eighteen, but as for how old she really is... she has no real idea. She knows that she was twelve, thirteen, for a really long time. Way too long. These ages stick with her, because she knows that something happened to her at this time in her life. What happened to her, was that she was initiated into the "Order" her parents belong to. Now this "Order" is very loosely based upon the real life O.T.O - The Ordo Templi Orientis - which is also known & associated as being Aleister Crowley's "Order" - Though they existed, before & after Aleister Crowley. They're kind of similar to The Golden Dawn, Very secretive, They operate by degrees of initiation, but perhaps because Crowley has the reputation of being "The vilest man who lived" & things like that, and the Order is secretive - People tend to think they are a devil worshipping, probably baby eating sort of cult. lol I could probably write a thesis on the OTO, but I'm only using what I Know of them in SL for entertainment purposes only. Elsa does not understand this " Order" she doesn't know what happened to her. What happened in this initiation is that she was crossed over, and she was made like them, like her parents, and some of their friends. She doesn't know what they are, or what she is. All that she knows is that they can move both backwards & forwards in time, and they do not seem to age. if they do it is very slow. She has the assumption that they are evil, and some of them are.. Just like there are good & bad in the world - There is good & bad in the "Order" and like her Natural Mother has always seemed to be like a " Good Person" Her father & Stepmother indulge in all kind of decadence & perversion , and though Elsa has three other siblings. She was the only child who as a toddler had to go live with Her father, and StepMother. That is all a long story in itself. At the age of twelve , with this initiation she became aware, Aware of things she would have probably never remembered - For example making a big time jump of about 30 years into the future when she was a small child. After the initiation, in some ways her life went right back to normal. She wasn't given any sort of information, any sort of instruction. Being stuck at the age of twelve, meant that she was always going to be under supervision of someone. What was not foreseen though, was that even without instruction, just as now she was aware of certain happenings - she may have had no memory of before.. She also had certain abilities, and eventually she learned that these God like qualities her Father and Stepmother had, she also had. It started out with the desire to be reunited with her real, natural Mother, and her three siblings. This desire to be able to go back in time, is what allowed her to go back in time. Sometimes mentally, and sometimes both mentally and physically. She doesn't really know how she does it - She thinks she can do it through meditation. At a certain point she does discover that her Mother, and her siblings were also crossed over, and that they have the abilities to do this also. She doesn't know if she actually died during this initiation, but she does know that when she has visited the future that she still appears like a young lady, and she doesn't know if she will ever age. So.. What happens is, She basically starts putting on a lot of make- up, Makes herself appear as adult as possible, and heads out into the world on her own. Assuming that according to nature, she would probably have been eighteen or maybe even much older. Even though Elsa can time travel, she thinks she is able to do it through meditation somehow. she's not always precise in where she ends up. She's much more driven by her own emotions than any sort of reason. Why did she come to Mayfield? Elsa came to the town of Mayfield, simply because she liked Mayfield! She had passed through a few times when she was doing a bit of soul searching. She had come across a few people Like Gigi Ethereal.. In short, She liked the people she had met there, and so she decided that it was where she was going to stay.

The only thing is, she made a slight mistake in her timing. The year was 1964 when she left, and she had no intention of going back in time, and has no idea why she got there in the 1950s, but figures that it must, in some way, be fate. Even though Elsa could time travel, she had never really been past 1966, and had no memories of ever living in the 1950s. So, it's all very new to her. As I wrote earlier. Elsa was not successful in making the break from her parents. They allowed her to go, Letting her think she had a victory, but they always kept a watchful eye out for her. They vowed that they would let her be, just as long as she kept all of their secrets, convincing her that society would probably lock her up in a mental institution if she were to talk about things that she shouldn't talk about. It was really very easy for Elsa to keep these " secrets" , because for the most part - she didn't know any. Other than being able to time travel, and that she didn't age. She felt like a normal girl. She didn't know if she could die or not. Really .. her imagination ran wild with explanations of why they seemingly lived forever. From being vampires, to having made a pact with the devil, to just about sort of scenario one can imagine Some of what Elsa has encountered here in Mayfield, like seeing the things she saw in the caves etc.. Seemed like it could. be an explanation to her own life & experiences. I think it's really pretty interesting, considering My back story that Elsa would find herself In Mayfield, with all the different things going on here & it's storyline etc. and if they connect in some ways - it's pure coincidence!! I've only used my story involving the OTO, and Alesistor Crowley, Only as a way to explain why my characters were able to be in different time periods, That's why it kind of blew my mind to see Aleistor Crowley pop up in a rp, in the battle that happened in the cave, but, I assure you that I did not bring in that person, and I don't know who it was, or is.Ok.... ALTS - On the notecard I filled out to originally live in Mayfield - I said I wasn't sure if I was going to be bringing any of my Alts to Mayfield, and.. I still don't, but I've been thinking about having a couple visits maybe. Playing more than one person at one time, makes me feel a bit schizophrenic. lol I wrote about that Elsa has 3siblings The siblings are Edgar (( No relation, or connection with Prof Edgar)) Lucinda/ Lucy and Ava and Elsa is actually the baby of the bunch! Lucy has a long, extensive Back story to her character. Ava is a quiet, shy, kind of girl. Both of the sisters, also have child avatars, as they are both little children in 1929 Berlin, and have found nowhere in SL to play as adults. So.. one day I may bring them in, So, Just to let you know if you ever see a Lucy, or an Ava Stewart in my home without Elsa being there - They're me! but nobody else should be in the house if I am not there.. except for maybe Carm, and I said if she ever needed a change of scenery she could stay there if she wanted, but I kind of doubt she would, especially if I weren't there.
