September 2019

Dear Fellow and Candidate Bluecoats Members,

My two years as President has gone by quickly. I am happy to report that because of the support of our members, our fund balance remains healthy. Your membership is our sole source of funding. Your ongoing support and assistance with new member recruitment will allow us to expand our organization. As we move forward with some program changes, your support will become even more invaluable to those who serve us today and for those we serve should the unthinkable happen to one of them.

We are privileged to welcome Holly Miktarian as our guest speaker. As she tells her story from the perspective of a wife who lost her husband in the line of duty. Let's remember all the brave men and woman who Holly represents. She will provide a first-hand account of how the community came together after her tragedy and how organizations, such as ours, are here during the darkest times. Through her words, you will better understand the true importance of Bluecoats and why your membership and involvement is so valuable.

On a personal note, I find appalling the abusive, often physical treatment of our safety officers by certain few in the public and the resultant negative, unfair publicity by the national media. These men and women put themselves in harm's way every day to protect and defend our law abiding citizens. Please join me in going out of your way to personally thank Medina County's men and women in blue to reinforce the support they have from our community. Also, take a moment to let them know that you are a proud supporter through your participation in our Medina County Bluecoats.

On behalf of the Medina County Bluecoats Board of Directors, I thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Michael Baach
President
Bluecoats of Medina County, Inc.
