PROGRAM & ACTIVITY INFORMATION FOR CAMP BLUE DIAMOND

Below is a list of anticipated activities your child may experience at camp this summer, depending on age and camp session attending. Please read through this information. To agree to these conditions, check the box at the bottom and sign.

General Activities - All campers will have opportunity to swim in the lake. A lifeguard will always be on duty and rules shared and enforced. Junior Campers will canoe with a counselor, Junior High and older campers can canoe with other campers. Campers will stay in a cabin with a counselor and other campers of similar age.

During the day there will be recreation, nature activities, Bible Discovery time, hikes and campfires. Other activities include: cookouts (Pioneer Camp and older), unit activities, group games and crafts.

Outdoor Living - Campers will experience nature through hikes, nature activities and living in the outdoors and may be exposed to external risks that are uncontrollable due to the wildlife and habitats found in a natural outdoor setting. These risks include, but are not limited to: insect bites, scratches, poison ivy, viruses and diseases from insect or tick-borne pathogens. Although CBD takes seriously our role of protecting children from potential risks, it is impossible to remove all risks from lakes, woods & rustic facilities.

Giant Swing (those attending Junior Camps and older) - This is a stand-alone element allowing campers to experience the excitement of safely swinging in a canopy of trees. Camper will choose the height in which he/she chooses to go according to his/her comfort level. Lessons learned are to encourage one another, discover comfort levels in a safe environment, be respected for the choice made, and learn the importance of proper use of safety equipment. Trained, certified instructors will be present. Equipment is inspected daily, and counselors are regularly evaluated and supervised as they serve as spotters, belayers and encouragers. The giant swing and equipment are inspected yearly by professionals. NOTE: campers will never be forced to take part in the Giant Swing activity if he/she is fearful and chooses not to do so. Risks include: rope burn, pinched legs and perhaps sore muscles.

Climbing Tower (those attending Junior Adventure Camps and Junior High Camps and older) - The Climbing Tower is a part of the Adventure Challenge Course. The value of this activity for campers includes: proper use of safety equipment, determining personal comfort and conveying that comfort level to leaders, freedom to choose a level of difficulty, experience being encouraged by others and being an encourager, experience the thrill of climbing and using the zip-line. Trained, certified instructors will be present. Equipment is inspected daily, and counselors are regularly evaluated and supervised as they serve as spotters, belayers and encouragers. The tower and equipment are inspected yearly by professionals. NOTE: campers will never be forced to take part in the Climbing Tower activity if he/she is fearful and chooses not to do so. Risks include: rope burn, sore muscles, skinned legs.

Caving/Spelunking (for those attending Junior Adventure Camps, Caving Camp, and Youth Camp) - Caving will take place in wild (non-commercial) caves. These caves are rugged and have no lights or pathways. The temperature in caves is 52 to 55 degrees F and may be wet/damp. Participants will carry their own source of light, wear helmets and be led by persons familiar with the cave. Risks involved in caving include, but are not limited to, bumps, scraps, cuts, and abrasions. Campers may feel cold and will get wet and muddy. There will be areas where campers will need to crawl through tight spots, though always with a leader's supervision. Long pants and long sleeves are a must for this activity.

Bicycling (Youth Adventure Camp) - Cyclists will experience many types of terrain, though mostly on the Rails-to-Trails path. At times, public roads may be utilized for travel to places for snacks, campsites, and breaks. It is essential that everyone follow all rules set by leaders and state traffic laws. Participants should understand that roadway debris, vehicles, potholes, mechanical malfunctions, animals, fellow riders and other factors might lead to accidents while cycling. Helmets must be worn all at times.

Outdoor Living Skills (Wild OLS and Advanced OLS) - Outdoor Living Skills involves the following: starting a fire with bow-drill, night activities where nature after dark are experienced, outdoor cooking skills and other activities involved with living in nature. These activities will involve learning skills that may cause blisters, minor skin irritations, and insect bites. Trained leadership with 1st Aid/CPR certification will be present.

Transportation (Caving Camp, Youth Camp, Wild OLS, Advanced OLS, and perhaps Junior Adventure Camps) - Campers will be transported in 12 or 15 passenger vans to various camp related activities. Drivers will be at least 21 years old, will have experienced driving the vehicle used and driving records will be checked. All accompanying staff are trained to care for emergencies as needed.

Youth Camp Activities – There are several activities unique to the Senior High Youth Camp experience. These include community service projects, an evening at Raystown Waterslides, adventure activities including: river canoeing and caving. These activities will be led by trained, experienced leaders and staff members will supervise and care for emergencies as needed.

By checking this box, I am acknowledging that I am aware of the activities my child will participate in while at Camp Blue Diamond. I am aware of the risks involved and will not hold Camp Blue Diamond, Inc., liable for any above mentioned, or unforeseeable dangers that may occur.
