

Sustainability Project

Corded Constructs

Inspired by the seamless intersection of fashion and interior design, this collection transforms the humble pillow cording into a medium of wearable art. By reimagining the curves, textures, and craftsmanship of home furnishings, I have crafted two avant-garde outfits that highlight the versatility of an overlooked material. The interplay of structure and flow celebrates the tactile qualities of pillow cording, blurring the boundaries between home and body, utility and adornment. This collection invites the wearer to embrace the unexpected elegance of interior-inspired fashion.
